San Jacinto's Peaks Held 'Sheerest in U.S.'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a copyrighted series of articles on the San Jacinto Mountains, written by Ana Mary Elliott, who literally has "grown up" with the mountain area. She has been extremely interested in its history, formation and land use—and, now for the first time the story of San Jacinto is being told in its entirety).

By ANA MARY ELLIOTT

Viewed from any angle, San Jacinto is a land island—a peak of granite thrust high above surrounding valleys and foothills, geologically separate from any other range. At dawn and past sunrise its shadow pyramids west to the Pacific Ocean; at sunset its many-peaked southeasterly ridges are shadow silhouetted against the clay hills of the desert, that other side of an ancient valley in which San Jacinto's present location was once 10,000 feet below sea level.

The northern face of the pyramid, and the northeastern face, boast the highest, steepest mountain sides in the continent. Even the northwestern slopes are sufficiently steep to permit precipitous roadside views of the farm valleys below and the coastal cities in the distance.

Southeasterly the range drops in elevation sharply to a seven and eight thousand foot elevation, with Tahquitz Peak lifted to 8,827 feet, then drops gradually to the six and five thousand foot ridges and lower westward valleys, with Santa Rosa mountain forming its own high elevation vegetation and climate up to 8,046 feet 20 miles down the range.

Between Santa Rosa and Tahquitz peaks—Tahquitz being the last of the visible pure granite uplifts—extends a line of ridges justly called "the desert divide." When winter fog and cloud are wind-pushed across the westward slopes, the "desert divide" stops their onrush short, curling the cold clouds upder themselves, holding them like a close-fitting cap on the mountain tops. Warm wind updrafts have stopped their condensation—stopped the cloud formation but not the wind. Cold wind drops into the partial vacuum left by the rising warm air, drops with mounting rush to swirl the sand across the desert.

From one end to the other the east slopes of the desert divide are forbiddingly precipitous to man or beast, dangerous for aircraft, a playground for the king of the birds.

I recall vividly one summer trip in the thirties when a group of us hiked from Cedar Crest to the ridge between Spitzler Peak and Antsell Rock. We walked through a field of lupine on the open ridge top and noticed clouds forming southeast of us.

Nearer Antsell Rock the ridge became knife-like, barely the width of the trail, and we paused to stare at the canyon below us. Suddenly we heard a shrill whistle. An eagle, one of three circling unmoving wings out beyond us, had plummeted into the canyon depths and rose again easily, climbing the up currents. Then in the canyon to the right the thunderstorm broke, and we watched it travel nearer until a rainbow below us marked its end.

Westward of the ridge are mountain valleys typical but only sample size. The road stretches ten miles from the Santa Rosa Summit at one end of Thomas Valley to the Hurkey Creek Campground at the other. In that ten miles one passes a few small pieces of grassland—valleys between the low hill or tongue of forest—misses the few acres of meadow hidden higher up behind rockier ridges, drives through three or four miles of Garner's Meadow once again set off by the brilliant blue of Lake Hemet, will probably see deer in summer or fall, and might find snow occasionally in winter.

In flood rains this valley area is sometimes covered by water that, rushing torrentially through the narrow channels under the new bridges, will re-fill the lake in two or three storms. Happily, this occurred in early

Service Cuts Are Now Scheduled By Friendly Aid

The Palm Springs Welfare and Friendly Aid Association, like most recipients of United Fund financial aid, today prepared curtailment of its services in the face of apathetic Village reaction to the campaign here.

Treasurer Grace Jablow said that "because of the dark United Fund picture, emergency aid has already been greatly reduced."

"The Association can't even think of the consequences of a further budget cut," she said.

THE CRITICAL status of the United Fund campaign was made painfully clear in the analysis furnished by the Welfare and Friendly Aid officials.

The organization's responsibilities are among the most easily understood of all United Fund recipients. The organization maintains school lunch service, medical assistance and dental clinics for needy children, programs prenatal and well-baby clinics, aids in operation of the Palm Springs Youth Center and furnishes immediate aid for fire-stricken, ill or unemployed families.

MUCH OF the aid comes in the form of volunteer assistance from doctors, dentists, nurses and public-minded citizens, but things like food, clothing, furniture, and pay for office and instructional personnel are very real costs that must be met by the Association.

In addition the group manages to conduct a Christmas toy campaign in which they furnish some substance to the meaning of the yule season through distribution of toys to children who routinely would be forced to do without any such tokens.

"PALM SPRINGS citizens cannot help but recognize this state of emergency as it concerns local families," said Grace Jablow.

"No one can dictate the amount a person should give.

"But," she added, "the need is great and can only be met through the help of each of us."

PRIVATE PLANE LANDS IN FIELD

Failure of an electrical system was listed today as the cause of a small private plane making a forced landing in a field near Sand Dunes Road and Avenue 40 just minutes after it took off from Desert Air Park Sunday.

Four people escaped serious injury as the four-seat Bonanza aircraft crashed into a vacant field close to the Leonard Firestone home at Thunderbird Country Club.

The plane was being piloted by George Rodolf, 50, of Berkeley, and his passengers were Burt Revera, 34, of Danville, Louise Gladins and Camelon Hughes.

According to sheriff's deputies, Rodolf smelled buring wires shortly after taking off from Desert Air, and immediately the plane lost altitude so the pilot brought it down for a forced landing. The rough terrain caused it to nose into the sand.

There was extensive damage to the plane. Rodolf sustained a slight wrist injury and Miss Gladins had a small cut on her forehead. Neither required medical attention.

Senate to Vote On Labor Today

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate moved toward its first 1959 showdown on the labor reform issue today with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) predicting a "safe margin" of votes to keep his bill intact.

Kennedy, chief sponsor and floor manager of the measure, said he expected the Senate to crush a move by Sen. Sam J. Evin Jr. (D-N.C.) to strip the bill of Taft-Hartley law changes demanded by organized labor.

Palm Desert Gets City Mail Plan

Congressman D. S. Saund announced today that city mail delivery service has been approved by the Post Office Department for Palm Desert.

The 29th District Congressman obtained the information today from Vern Scoggins, regional operations director of the Post Office Department in San Francisco. Scroggins said he would inform Congressman Saund of the effective date for the establishment of the city mail service.

Saund, now in his second term as representative for Riverside and Imperial counties, said that the action had come as the third measure for Palm Desert to follow the Congressman's election. A post office construction measure was followed by air conditioning for the facility.

Senate Acts On Herter Nomination

Formal Approval Expected Late This Afternoon

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate today began consideration of the nomination of Christian A. Herter to be secretary of state. It acted shortly after the Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved the nomination.

The committee acted with rare speed in approving the nomination.

ITS VOTE, AT a closed session, came less than two hours after it convened a public hearing at which Herter was the only witness.

During the 65 minutes of questioning, mostly by Sen. Wayne L. Morse (D-Ore.), Herter said that:

—He did not believe the United States should use nuclear weapons "in the initial stages" in any shooting war that might break out over Berlin.

The U. S. would have to "think very carefully" about use the nuclear weapons if it appeared that Russia was "willing to carry it to the point of an all-out war."

HERTER WAS warmly praised by every committee member present, including Morse.

Herter said, in reply to a question by Morse, that the President has the final authority over when to use nuclear weapons. But he added that "I don't think any President of the United States would want to engage in war without going to Congress."

MORSE HAD VOICED concern over the possibility of a president using nuclear weapons in a "limited war" without the specific consent of Congress.

BOTH DRIVERS WERE cited following this accident at Palm Canyon Drive and Yorba Road Monday afternoon. After colliding near the intersection, the cars continued across the curb, and out into the desert before coming to a halt. Driver of the 1952 model car (in foreground) was Sgt. Chester D. K. McCubbin, 24, of Highland, and the other car, a 1954 model, was driven by William H. Chaddick, 44, of Los Angeles. There were no injuries, but both cars received heavy damage. According to Sgt. Bob Young, both drivers were cited, Chaddick for passing at an intersection, and McCubbin for starting a left turn too soon. (Desert Sun Photo)

Reinforced Police Set For Action

Strike Ended But Union Still Riots In North Carolina

HENDERSON, N. C. — (UPI) — Gunfire and dynamite explosions brought on by apparent unionist dissatisfaction with company hiring policy broke out anew in this textile mill town today, despite union ratification of a strike-ending contract.

Fresh violence was triggered at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills late Monday night by members of the Textile Workers Union of America (AFL-CIO) angered when the number of former strikers added to a second shift at the mill amounted to less than 30 persons.

MORE THAN 350 scared non-union workers bedded down in the mill Monday night, afraid to leave because hundreds of angry union workers roamed just outside the mills.

But today reinforced police escorted the beleaguered workers from the plant through angry, shouting unionists without major violence.

Some 100 state highway patrolmen were rushed here to back up the 98 local police already at the scene.

THE REINFORCEMENTS were requested by Maj. Carroll V. Singleton following a jarring dynamite blast in the mill yard. Powerless police watched street lights and searchlights on mill property shot out one by one.

The only violence this morning occurred several minutes before the troopers arrived at the mills. Union members stoned the cars of workers reporting for the 7 a. m. shift.

Reservations For Ad Meet Exceed 100

Advance reservations have broken the 100 mark for the Ninth Annual Conference at Oasis Hotel April 23-25 of the Western States Advertising Agencies Association.

William J. Boylhart of Boylhart, Lovett & Dean, who is conference chairman, said this was the largest number of reservations received more than a week in advance in the history of the event.

"If this pace continues we may have an attendance of more than 300 advertising executives from the western states," Boylhart said. "Originally we planned for 200 or more, but we never anticipated an advance rush like this."

Boylhart said arrangements are nearing completion for nationally-known speakers and entertainment for the three-day event.

"Our preliminary planning indicated very definitely that this will be the best annual conference the association has ever had," Boylhart said. "Judging from the large number of advance reservations, word has circulated that the conference is going to be outstanding, and everyone is climbing on the bandwagon."

WOMAN AT KNIFEPOINT IN QUENTIN ESCAPE BID

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Two San Quentin prison trusties fled to a nearby fishing pier today and seized a man and woman hostage at knife-point in a desperate bid to obtain a speedboat and escape across San Francisco Bay.

The man was released to act as a messenger between the convicts and the dozens of prison guards and police who waited in a tense impasse 100 feet away.

"DON'T COME ANY closer or we'll slit her throat," one of the convicts yelled at the guards.

Associate Warden W. D. Achuff of San Quentin said it was first reported that only the woman was grabbed by the fleeing convicts. About two hours later Achuff said a man also had been seized and he was acting as an intermediary, shuttling back and forth between the two sides.

THE DRAMA WAS taking place on the Marin County Rod and Gun Club pier about a mile north of the prison.

The two convicts were identified as Billy Joe Wright, 26, Trinity County, and William D. Werner, 24, Fresno County, both burglars.

They had been working as trusties in a rock quarry outside the prison walls. Off-duty Guard W. Gastoni spotted them fleeing on foot toward the rod and gun club a mile and a half away at about 9:15 a. m. (p.s.t.).

A GUN CLUB MEMBER said the convicts pulled a knife on the woman as she was fishing off the pier.

"Tell the Coast Guard to stay away from the pier or we will kill the woman if anyone comes near," one shouted.

The Coast Guard sent a patrol boat and helicopter to the scene.

The convicts yelled to the prison guards facing them to get them a boat so they could flee across San Francisco Bay.

WAYNE BROOKS, a San Rafael bar owner who was on the pier at the time of the escape, said: "I saw these two convicts running down the pier, and two guards chasing them.

"There were about 20 or 25 people on the pier, and then the convicts—they had a knife, I don't know where they got it—grabbed this woman and pointed the knife at her throat.

"They told the guards not to come any closer or they would kill the woman, and everybody stopped.

"They're out at the end of the pier now, and they just yelled to the guards to get them a boat so they could get away, but I don't know what they're going to do."

Churchill Breaks Silence

Allies Differ on Approach

LONDON — (UPI) — Extensive consultations among the western allies have failed to resolve their basic differences of approach to the forthcoming East-West negotiations in Geneva, diplomatic sources said today.

Another ill omen for the Geneva talks came in Berlin with publication of a 115-page book by the Communist East Germany and Soviet foreign offices calling for the immediate end to western occupation rights in West Berlin. The charges were not new but the timing was considered significant.

BRITAIN STILL believes the Russians might be willing at this time to negotiate an agreement on Berlin and Germany and that they should be encouraged by some western gesture, the sources said.

The United States, West Germany and France, in varying degree, remain highly skeptical of Soviet intentions and unwilling to waste concessions for the sake of the experiment.

THE WESTERN foreign ministers meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in less than three weeks. They are agreed on a "policy of firmness" but not agreed on what is firm and what is not firm.

This disagreement may have been responsible for Sir Winston Churchill's plea Monday night that the West remain "united and strong" in the forthcoming talks and to warn that a battle for Berlin could engulf the whole world in nuclear warfare.

BRITAIN MEANWHILE was holding firm to the line proposed by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan after his Moscow talks that there should be "pacification by negotiation" and by "reasonable agreement."

Churchill spoke at suburban Woodford.

The aging statesman broke a two-year political silence to admonish the Soviets it was not necessary for their leaders to warn of the dangers of the use of armed force to solve the Berlin crisis since "we are aware of this."

HIS SPEECH APPEARED to be partly in answer to a series of Soviet charges that the United States and other Western powers were guilty of "provocations" aimed at "whipping up war tensions" on the eve of the May 11 Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

Churchill also announced he would be a candidate for re-election to Parliament.

200 Attend Luncheon

City Marks 21st Birthday

Two hundred Villagers — a third of whom helped to incorporate Palm Springs — gathered at the Chi Chi Monday to celebrate the city's 21st birthday.

At the event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Bill Smith, first vice president of the Chamber, also presented awards to three people for services to the chamber during the past year.

AWARDS WERE GIVEN to Jack Fascinato for setting Palm Springs to music in his newest album, "Palm Springs Suite;" to Hildy Crawford for the part she played in helping the Palm Springs Debs, to whom she is honorary advisor; and to Jeano Baillard for her services as chairman of the publicity committee of the Chamber for the past few years.

Civic leaders and members of the City Council were introduced, including Mrs. Pearl McManus, who also celebrated her birthday Monday, and Mayor Frank Bogert who told about the early days when Palm Springs was divided on the incorporation move and local people who were once friends became divided and some refused to talk with one another for some 10 years.

CHAMBER PUBLICIST Cliff Brown made a report on the promotion and publicity that the Chamber has done during the past months, and announced that Palm Springs was having stories in forthcoming issues of Cosmopolitan, Sports Illustrated, and Holiday magazines.

A big three-tier birthday cake was cut and passed around to the celebrants, and the program was concluded with the showing of Zaddie Bunker's "This Is Your Life" television show and the special film of the Ed Canby family "on vacation" in Palm Springs which was shown over Channel 13 on the Holiday Travelogue show.

PRINCESS GRACE EXPECTING AGAIN, SAYS PARIS PAPER

PARIS (UPI) — Princess Grace of Monaco is expecting a third child, a Paris newspaper claimed today.

The daily "Paris Journal" said the former Grace Kelly of Hollywood and Philadelphia "broke the news confidentially and very timidly to a lady friend in Paris.

There was no official confirmation of the report. Grace and her husband, Prince Rainier, are currently visiting his mother, Princess Charlotte, here.

Grace and Rainier arrived here Saturday from Switzerland with their first born, Princess Caroline, who is two years and three months old. Little Prince Albert, born March 14, 1958, had stayed behind in Monaco.

ROWAN & MARTIN COMEDY TEAM CHI CHI HEADLINER

If Lawrence Olivier has even approximately as much difficulty with Las Vegas' ringside lushes as the comedy team of Rowan and Martin do in depicting such antics—twice a night at the Chi Chi here—it could cause a break in Anglo-American relations.

The British are already miffed at us because we want to fly higher than 10,000 feet in journeys to Berlin but if Olivier gets the kind of treatment Rowan takes from Martin, that sore spot will seem small in comparison.

THE TWO COMICS who have been setting U. S. clubs and hotels afire with their red-hot comedy, came to a simmer here in their Sunday opening show. But the Olivier versus lush routine pulled them out.

The incongruity of Shakespeare in a Vegas gambling hall isn't spared in the Rowan and Martin takeoff.

"I should like to take Hamlet . . ." begins Dan Rowan.

"So . . . (hic) . . . take him," mumbles Dick Martin.

FROM THEREON, it's anybody's show. Martin fumbles his beer, drinks from the glass, the ashtray, the bottle, the table.

"I don't get to the big town ver often," he gurgles, "but when I do, diggity doo."

It isn't necessary to go to Vegas to find the kind of person that Martin depicts. Unfortunately, they abound everywhere and are known to club-goers throughout the nation.

SOME ADVICE might be helpful if Olivier does run into the kind of crowd that the two comics depict. He should jump into a cab, order the driver to El Rancho Vegas and then sit and take a lesson from the old master heckler-silencer, Joe E. Lewis.

Lewis has cleared the El Rancho of wise guys and loudmouths with such classics as "Go out to the bar and tell the bartender to put a head on you," and "You got it all wrong, buddy, I'm doing a single." And others.

Lawrence could learn (as can all comics) from the Lewis technique.

"Loosen up folks," instructed Rowan after the first couple of gags fell flat. "There's no place else to go."

Later, with Martin, Rowan discusses the people of Palm Springs.

"Remember how friendly they are?" inquires Ed.

"No," replies Dick.

The pair sing medium well but the gags, straight and clean, are the stock in trade. Sometimes trading is better than keeping them, however.

THE TONG BROTHERS kick off the current Chi Chi show and are followed by ex-Champagne Lady Roberta Linn.

Roberta has rounded into a pretty fair club singer in spite of some predictions that she couldn't lose that "sweet girl" mark.

She sings the old songs, the new songs and closes her segment up with "Then I'm Happy," one of those nostalgia-filled show business standards that can't help but cause misty eyes.—G. L.

'Hansel and Gretel' Enjoyed by Young and Old'

Annual Play for Children

By GEORGE LAINE

One of the great joys of childhood is fairy tales—told, sung or enacted.

"Hansel and Gretel," one of the best-loved of all such stories, thrilled, scared and generally delighted two audiences composed largely of Village tykes Saturday and Sunday afternoons in Palm Springs Playhouse.

HAVING VERY nearly as much fun were the more than a dozen members of the cast. (It might also be added that the adults in the audience which included this reviewer also appeared to be pleased with the tale.)

En route to having their fun the cast delivered themselves of one of the least inhibited performances that has graced the local emporium this season.

CAST AS THE witch, Phyllis Flax was a joy to behold. She was sufficiently evil and calculating and when she started checking the audience for prospective dinners, I thought she'd empty the place.

Claude Johnson, as Hansel, was also a treat to observe. This young man, who came to the Playhouse as a relatively untried student, has rounded into shape over the 14-week course here and is, I feel, as good a young actor as Southern California has seen in several years.

MORE ENJOYABLE for me, was the observation of Sue McDonald in a role that she both relished and understood. The multitudinous pratfalls were done with ease and conviction (and probably many bruises) and her dialogue was better than it has been since she did one of the few notable performances in "Anne Frank."

There were some other good characterizations in the play. Marrian Walters created the wicked stepmother in such a manner as to have everyone in the house allied against her until the last act. Millie Hoffmeier did a perfectly beautiful job with her good fairy role. So convincing was she that when she flitted about the stage admonishing the audience to be quiet so Hansel and Gretel could sleep, young Biff Blashek took up the cause, too, and — pressing a forefinger to his lips — instructed the children about him to also keep silent.

WILLIAM HUGHES was a little on the "over" side in his Mr. White Cat role and Christy Palmer was still tense — but not as much as in some prior efforts — in her Gretel.

The kids that rounded out the cast — Jerry Helm, Rickey Burnham, Karen Burnham, George Byrne, Judi Gay Canby and Michael Hoffmeier — were fun to observe and lent an almost childlike quality to the play.

THE MUSICAL portions of the play were a surprise.

First of all, I hadn't expected to hear Christy Palmer sing the "Evening Prayer" nor had I thought that Claude Johnson would join her. His voice was pleasant if uncultured but hers was raspy and misdirected.

Best vocal effort of the play was the "Witch Is Dead" selection which, while not as Humperdinck wrote it, was charming and energetically done.

TEACHER-CITIZEN symposium will be held Tuesday night in the Music Room at the Palm Springs High School at which time an intellectual discussion of Social Studies will be held to explore the philosophies behind the teaching of the subject. The above pictured teachers will take part in the discussion, left to right, Ray Beezley, teacher of U. S. history; Dr. Seamus Nunan, chairman; Chet McCarthy, teacher of civics and senior problems; Miss Letha Cote, teacher of California government and world history; Robert Gilmore, teacher of United States history; and (not pictured) William Fahrner, teacher of civics and United States history. Citizens in the audience will be given an opportunity to submit questions to the teachers and chairman.

Children's Room Has Original Buff Drawing

By GERRY VANEK

Calling all lovers of the beautiful books by the Buffs!

Come into the children's room to see Conrad Buff's original drawing of two deer which appears in "The Big Tree," and a colorful print of a dappled, woodland fawn from "Dash And Dart!"

In addition to having spanking new copies of these books, we also have some new pictures of both Conrad and Mary Buff and interesting biographical material about them from Houghton Mifflin and Viking, their publishers.

WHEN THEY were married Mary decided that one artist in the family was enough, so she concentrated all of her creative talents on the writing of children's books. Her husband drew upon his colorful and extensive background to illustrate her stories. What a happy decision that turned out to be!

CONRAD WAS born in the beauty of the Swiss Alps. Their awe-inspiring magnificence so affected the young man that he just couldn't see spendig his life working in the family bakery there. Learning the art of lace-making also fell short of the creative fulfillment for which he souhgt.

When he emigrated to America, he came with no money, no friends, and no command of the English language. In the West he found ranch life hard, but rewarding. A love for this part of the country had been implanted when, as a youth in Switzerland, he had discovered the books of James Fennimore Cooper. The West had a message for him — and he read it in her people, her animals, her colors, and her mountains . . .

THE MAN WHO wanted to be an artist found himself working on a railroad . . . skinning mules . . . herding sheep . . . cooking . . . farming . . . and wearing the boots and riding the saddle of the American cowboy.

There are even some householders in the West who are in the unique and enviable position of having had their homes painted by a man whose masterpieces now hang in such centers of art as the British Museum, the Metropolitan Museum of New York, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and the National Gallery in Washington, D.C.

THE BIG TREE will make you want to visit Sequoia National Park — support any and every conservation program — and join Smokey Bear's fire prevention club, to boot!

Wawona's life started five thousand years ago as one of two hundred tiny seeds in a small, brown cone. This amazing tree has lived through fifty centuries of battling the fiercest forces of nature- heavy snow drifts, violent winds and forest fires. The tree conquered them all to become the oldest living thing in the world.

A SPAN of 50 centuries almost defies the imagination, so the Buffs have interpolated the passing parade of the world along with Wawina's story. Their choice of the building of the ancient pyramids of Egypt . . . Moses leading his people to the Promised Land . . . Jesus being born in a stable in Bethlehem

ROAD PROJECTS SCHEDULE GIVEN -- BIDS TO BUILDING

Acting Director of Public Works Hal Moore has presented the City Council with an estimate of time on the completion of plans and construction of two major thoroughfares in the city.

According to the report, Vista Chino will be first with plans to be completed by May 22, advertising for bids on May 26 and June 2, bid opening on June 5, and the awarding of the bids to be made at the council meeting of June 11.

Construction of the street, which will run from Palm Canyon Drive to Sunrise Way, will be started by June 22 and the completion of the road has been scheduled for Sept. 1.

Plans for construction of Tahquitz Drive from Indian Avenue to the airport will be completed on July 15, advertising for bids will be made on July 21 and 28, with bid openings scheduled for Aug. 7.

The Desert Sun

THE DESERT SUN PUBLISHING CO.
GEORGE E. CAMERON, JR., PRESIDENT
174 North Palm Canyon Drive — Palm Springs, California
WARD J. RISVOLD, Publisher
DON KLOTZBUECHER, Managing Editor — KENNETH BROTT, Business Manager
J. W. RICHARDSON, Mechanical Superintendent

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Other Media Make Newspapers More Appreciated by Contrast

Nothing compares with the printed word in conveying news and advertising messages.

This long established fact has only been emphasized the more by the advent of radio and television.

The longer the "word" is visible and/or available for ready reference and repeated study, the more it will be effective and remembered.

This fact is easily demonstrable.

Almost everyone in these times has one or more favorite programs of news or entertainment on radio or television.

And the great majority of the American public are regular and quite thorough newspaper readers.

No matter how many newscasts may be tuned in, it is still true at the news stands and in the home that the newspaper is the one medium which is universally depended upon for completeness of detail and unhurried reports of events in a time and manner suiting the convenience of everyone.

In fact, surveys show that the average person retains only a "hazy" impression of most matters quoted so quickly that there is little time for thought, consideration or mental digestion and mental storage. These human processes require varying amounts of time for each individual, which is automatically provided to a reader of the printed word in a newspaper.

There is no question of the popularity of a number of radio and television programs. Likewise, that advertising has a proper place in certain spots on the ether waves, although perhaps less favorably received and less remembered or effective in most instances than on the printed page.

To test this just ask yourself or any other regular broadcast fan who "sponsors" certain programs. The chances are that not one in ten will come definitely and regularly to mind. Yet the average newspaper reader can tell you not only what products are currently being advertised in his local newspaper, but the dealer's name and location.

The newspaper, with its well arranged news, advertising and feature pages is growing in popularity, circulation, advertising, public service and appreciation each and every year.

With all due credit and commendation to other media, the newspaper with its printed page is more firmly established than ever as the basic news and advertising medium, an indispensable institution in both communication and commerce, and the foundation of freedom and progress in all of these great United States.

Look Homeward

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It is possible to be sympathetic about a friend's illness, and yet to disagree with him about the means of treating it. This is how this reporter feels at the annual sight of the sovereign American States, many undoubtedly in poor economic health, staggering to Washington to take the cure at the Federal trough.

Somewhere among my souvenirs are two perfect attendance certificates as a pupil at the Pierpont public school in Clarksburg, W. Va. I have not ceased to be grateful for a good start. West Virginia schools were then supported by local taxes levied on a relatively self - sufficient community which was changing very rapidly into an insufficient one. Since this same trend with its accompanying calamity can happen to the other 49 States, the story is worth noting:

WEST VIRGINIA is the victim of a technological revolution which is running throughout the nation. Even in years when a large tonnage of coal is mined, the number of jobs goes down.

The presence of a powerful and admittedly benevolent union, the United Coal Miners, insures high wages and improved conditions of work, but does not halt the loss of employment. The coal, oil, gas and other minerals that are exported to other States enriches them, but does not return to West Virginia, except in the form of Federal benefits.

SHOULD THESE Federal benefits be extended to aid for public schools, that is, to boost teachers' salaries and build new classrooms? P. E. Reeder, the State's Education Association's executive secretary, answered "Yes" in a recent Senate hearing. Mr. Reeder brought much supporting evidence. He showed that West Virginia is in the upper brackets of natural wealth and of corporate earnings, but in the lower brackets for individual income and, hence, for the money that goes to the local schools.

Here is a prima facie case for seeking Federal aid for local schools. But what is the history of Federal aid? The Agriculture Department is today pouring food into this agricultural state with the result that its people are surrendering the independence which is celebrated in the State motto: Montani Semper Liberi (Mountaineers always free.)

IF THE DEPARTMENT of Health, Education and Welfare gets to paying the teachers and building the schools, the result is further loss of independence. There is no offsetting gain. Federal aid has not solved the problem of why the nation's 15th most prosperous state in natural resources and the 16th most prosperous State in corporate wealth cannot manage to do better than be 42nd in the money it spends per pupil.

There is a solution, but it is in Charleston and not in Washington. West Virginia exports nearly everything, including about half the 1,200 teachers per year which it trains. It is axiomatic that any community which sells off its wealth - producers like organic energy and trained educators is going to become poor.

BUT THE PROCESS can be reversed. A measure of self-sufficiency can be restored. In fact, self-sufficiency is the true wave of the future. A large part of our annual foreign aid goes to convince Southeast Asians that they should learn to feed, clothe and educate their own people. The Common Market in West Europe is dedicated to do-it-at-home. The Federal Republic of (West) Germany has cut down on American coal for fear of becoming too dependent.

These principles are universal. If any State wishes to acheive or retain its political identity, it must get the most out of its indigenous products. The Swiss people, the classic example of mountaineer independence, have cultivated hotel-keeping, watchmaking and banking.

IF THE SWISS have any advantage over West Virginians, it is merely in the will to stay free. The problem in the Alps and the Alleghenies is the same — not how to export its natural heritage and its cultivated human brains, but how to utilize and enjoy them at home.

The West Virginia problem is the national one, the world one. Everywhere, the consumer is the forgotten man. How economically happy he would be if his hometown processed his foof, manufactured his clothing, educated his children!

Well, this could happen if we make it happen. The dispersal of industry is already bringing plants to many towns. The new uses of natural energy, the advance of electronics for communication and education — all offer us self-sufficient communities. But first we must break the iron habit of looking everywhere except home for the way to do it.

—Holmes Alexander

Quotes from the News

NEW YORK — Vice President Nixon, urging this country and Russia to accept the International Court of Justice as an impartial umpire to enforce future East-West agreements:

"The time has now come to take the initiative in the direction of establishment of the rule of law in the world to replace the rule of force."

VANDENBERG, AFB., Calif.— William H. Godel, director of planning for the Advanced Research Projects Agency, quoting the odds on first-attempt recovery of the Discoverer satellite instrument capsule:

"The chances are one to 900 of getting the satellite into proper position and achieving all other necessary conditions."

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, answering critics who have accused him of overemphasizing the danger of inflation:

"They forget that it is too late to repair a leaky roof when the rain is pouring down."

WASHINGTON — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, asking for better economic relations with the United States:

"You should not think of our country as beggar. The Cuban people are hard working. They are not lazy. We prefer to go slowly, but with our own force. We have what it takes to improve our country."

DEER LODGE, Mont. — An unidentified convict, shouting from the riot-torn Montana State Prison:

"This is a prison of tourture . . . of brutality. If you send the National Guard in we'll kill them."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), endorsing Vice President Nixon's scheduled trip to Moscow in July:

"I think it's very good — very desirable — to have the vice president go to Moscow to open the American National Exhibition."

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Gov. A. B. Happy Chandler after mobilizing 1,000 National Guardsmen to keep order in the southeastern Kentucky coal strike in which two persons have been slain:

"I feel a sense of guilt that I haven't been able to stop this killing—this ruthless, careless killing."

Chuckles in the News

THE ANSWER IS NO

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — County Treasurer Warnen G. Harding said he'd had a pleasant chat in the courthouse corridor with a stranger who told him he had just been indicted on three counts of passing bad checks.

Harding said the conversation ended when the man asked: "By the way, I wonder if you would cash a small check for me?"

Hope He Doesn't Decide to Fly

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

In the summer lull
Let's set our sights
On a campaign
To get traffic lights.

Things are just a bit quieter now that we've reached mid-April.

If you're on your toes and look sharp, you can even find a place to park on the Drive.

SO, WHILE we are not too occupied with other things, why not concentrate on a campaign to get a few traffic signals at vital spots, places where traffic stymies us?

In the summer time, when the volume of cars thins out a bit we are apt to forget the winter jams. Until they re-occur.

And the biggest traffic hassle of all—the intersection of Ramon Road and Indian Avenue.

SEEMS TO ME that the state Division of Highways has no more excuse for stalling about needed traffic lights at important intersections.

The reason, they said last year, was that the city might go in for one-way street plan on Indian Avenue and the Drive. So that signal lights at the Y would not be needed.

But that one-way street plan is apparently out.

Besides, even if it were not, the traffic problem at Ramon and Indian would still exist. And the problem at Sunrise and Ramon.

THAT FOUR-WAY stop at Ramon and Indian is no good. Most drivers do not know the rules and there is a continual jam there. It takes a lot of nerve to get through because too many people steal the right-of-way.

A cautious driver who values his fenders could be stuck there for some time.

In a lesser degree, Ramon and Sunrise offer the same problem.

TODAY'S tirade was prompted by a Chicago visitor who said:

"Palm Springs is an amazing community. Its growth, development, the things it has to offer people, all that.

"But the most amazing thing about it is the low fatality record on the city streets.

"The way they drive here, the lack of control at the intersections, makes me wonder that your newspaper isn't filled every day with stories of crashes."

Well, mister, we don't report the near misses.

I LIKE TO note signs along the highway as Mrs. G. drives me back and forth between the Beach and Palm Springs.

One beauty shop along the hghway has this sign:

"Kut and Kurl."

That, I think, is Kute.

THEN, YOU SEE these signs directing you to turn left or right at the next corner for housing developments. Fancy names like Manor Homes, Skylark Homes, Wildview Homes all that kind of stuff.

But I got the biggest bang out of a sign that pointed to "Sherlock Homes."

Probably the developer's name is Watson.

Says Paul Carruth: "You're middle-aged if, when the air is springy, you're not."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

"This ship burns 5,000 pounds of water in the first five minutes of takeoff," he said.

"Water?" I said. "Couldn't we all chip in and buy the captain some gasoline?"

You must hurry these days to be the firstest with the mostest. So the other day I climbed aboard TWAs non-stop jet to New York. To see what happens in this jet-propelled age.

THE MAN WHO knew all about water was a veteran — he had flown to San Francisco from New York the day before. He said the jet was powered by some strange sort of kerosene-and-water fuel.

It is an enormous ship. About a city block long. With 118 passengers crammed from lounge to tail.

The inside is decorated a clean gray with figured constellations of stars on the walls. Over each seat they have built a little box. It contains your call button, your lights and an emergency oxygen mask.

IF THE CABIN loses pressure, the mask drops automatically into your lap.

This was explained by the TWA stewardess who told us how to put on the mask. "Breathe naturally," she said And naturally we did.

She then went forward and strapped herself into a seat facing backward. With straps over the shoulders as well as the waist.

"WHEN THEY TAKE off," said my veteran seat mate, "they go up at such a steep angle she has to be strapped in that way."

The jet lumbered out to the end of the runway and set up a high whine.

In the lounge, there was no oxygen mask overhead. I hoped we would not lose pressure. And if we were going to burn water that we had the best spring water. Not just something out of the tap.

THE PLANE MOVED down the runway, lifted. The wheels came up with a thump. And up we went.

"Good morning," said the pilot on the pipe. "We are now passing over Nevada just south of Reno."

The Boeing Jet is without any vibration. Just about like sitting in your own living room (with 118 guests), except for the noise.

The noise, I thought, was just about equal to the planes we have been flying. But of different quality.

"SOME PEOPLE," said the stewardess, "think it sounds like a waterfall. And some people say it sounds like a vacuum cleaner in the next room."

"What is that eeeeeeeennnnnn sound?"

"I don't know," she said. "I never heard it before."

I went back in the back of the plane and could no longer hear the eeeeeennnnn sound.

We traced it down, finally.

It was in the stove where they heat up the food.

No matter how clever man becomes, there'll always be something that goes wrong with the stove.

THERE ARE TWO kitchens on the jets. A set of stewardesses to each. One is in front and the other amidships. (Otherwise the stewardesses would have to walk a block to serve dinner.)

"We are cruising at 31,000 and have just passed over Omaha," said the loudspeaker.

The stewardesses picked up the cocktails and began serving dinner.

THEY PICKED UP the dinner and —— ."Fasten seat belts," said the loudspeaker.

The wheels came down with a thump. The lights of New York came up under the wing. The plane slid down over the water and onto the lighted runway.

Four hours and 45 minutes.

WASHINGTON — Rep. Dale Elford (D-Ark.), on a House committee's decision to investigate his surprise write-in election victory of last November:

"I was definitely elected by the majority of the people of the First District of Arkansas in the finest radition of a democratic election."

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By LICHTY

"I say that amount of nuclear fallout is safe, gentlemen! . . . 30 years of making speeches and holding office convinces me that people can survive most anything!"

EARL WILSON: Was Young King Unkingly

NEW YORK — "The Little King" — Hussein of Jordan — caused about as much excitement in New York as a kneecap in a nudist colony.

Cafe Society resented his claiming he didn't know actress Susan Cabot. He merely sat across a narrow table from her the entire evening at a Hollywood party 10 days ago, feasting his eyes on her and her sari. Close friends of Susan — who knew her as Harriet Shapiro when she was getting her start — considered that unkingly and ungallant. At the Waldorf, a city cop said, "You'd hardly know a king was here. There was more excitement when Conrad Hilton took off on one of his hotel junkets."

Ricky Nelson, who at 18 dated some of the Las Vegas nudies, has been offered five shows there. But Ozzie and Harriet, who've never been in Vegas, want him to consider carefully . . . Herb Shriner bought a wartime PBY, and converted it into a flying yacht for commercial skin-diving excursions . . .The American Bardot, Brigitte Rohland of Bayonne, N.J., is hatchecking in Greenwich Village.

THE TV FORUM—"WE WANT ZSA ZSA!" A reader recently blasted the undressed and half-dressed glamour gals who do TV guest shots — but here's a woman viewer who LIKES them!

"So the housewives are again the glamour dolls on TV," writes Virginia La Chapelle of 1327 Oakdale Ave., West St. Paul. "Does it ever occur to them that they have complete censorship at their fingertips and a simple twist of the wrist will obliterate these objectionable creatures from their homes?

"I don't care much for most of them, but I think Zsa Zsa is the absolute epitome of feminity and if I could look like anyone in the world I'd choose this charming woman.

"I wish you would take a poll to see which woman in the world most women would like to look like. There was such a poll five years ago and Garbo won. I think someone else would win now."

Barbara Nichols, the Hollywood Taffy Tuttle, did a combination TV-movie film called "The Untouchables" in which she performed a daring strip tease for a version to be seen only in Europe. "But what will your mother out in Huntington, L.I., say?" I asked Barbara, who exclaimed. "She's not going to see it — she's not going to Europe!"

We get a lot of our learnin' today from TV. Tennessee Ernie Ford, for example, gave us this pretty simile: "Like gift-wrappin' a bucket of hog livers" . . . Then there's the tale of the wife who said, "Oh, dear, I have missed you so much!" So she raised her revolver and fired again.

Rabbi Samuel M. Silver reminds me (also Eddie Fisher, Liz Taylor and Sammy Davis) that correct usage is "Reform Judaism" (not Reformed) — also passes along the story of the boy, listing the Ten Commandments, who quoted as one, "Thou shalt not steal in vain."

I just asked Groucho Marx whether Sammy Davis Jr. is as good as the late Al Jolson. Replied Groucho: "He's better! Jolson could only sing." Groucho added: "Steve Allen is the only guy who does satire today. I'm a fan of his personally and professionally. He can be a very important writer."

MIKE CONNOLLY: No Las Vegas Trip

HOLLYWOOD — The age-old adage about the children of divorce suffering more than the principals — whether in Hollywood, Weehawken or Walla Walla — was proved again yesterday. Eddie Fisher, appearing at the Tropicana in Las Vegas, couldn't avail himself of his weekly - visitation privilege with his children, little Carrie and Todd Fisher. He long-distanced Debbie Reynolds and asked her to send the children up to the desert resort.

She refused — and who can blame either parent. Eddie for wanting them to share the desert sunshine there with himself and his fiancee, Liz Taylor, or Debbie for refusing to send them "because it's a gambling resort?"

UNIVERSAL WILL try to repeat Debbie's 1958 boxoffice blockbuster, "Tammy," with "Desert Flower.' Different star, Sandra Dee. But the same producer, Ross Hunter.

Prof. Louis Schub of Hollywood's University of Judaism told a group of Hadassah ladies (kidding, of course): "I hear Liz Taylor and Marilyn Monroe exchanged recipes for matzo ball soup."

Jerry Lewis will finish his 11-year contract with producer Hal Wallis on July 4, Independence Day! Then Jerry will become his own boss and produce his own movies. "Get ready," Jerry told me. "I'm gonna throw a big party for Hal — for making my ugly kisser a household appliance!" I asked, "Don't you mean for making your name a household word, Jerry?" Said he, "Naw, I mean appliance, as in POT!"

PRODUCER SAM Spiegel is sponging Tennessee Williams' cannibalism theme out of "Suddenly Last Summer" for the movie version starring Liz Taylor, Vivien Leigh and Monty Clift. Please, Sam, not while I'm eating.

A look at the latest boxoffice returns on "Imitation of Life" convinces me I was wrong about Lana Turner's eventual take on this redhot movie. She won't be a millionaire she'll be a multi-millionaire. Miss Turner's terms call for 50 per cent of the net profits. It cost $1,432,000 to make The "break-even" point for Universal is $2,800,000. It's heading for a world-wide gross of $15,-000,000. All of which spells out a smash $6,000,000 in the ol' sock for Lana, who calls it her "Imitation Inundation."

BUSINESS IS SO good for ex-Chicagoan Bob O'Donnell, now owner of a chain of theatres in Texas, following the Academy Awards telecast, he bought his wife Tootsie a new foreign car. He calls it her Tootsie Rolls.

David Wayne wigflipped at another actor who came on in a TV show they've been doing together like Gangbusters: "Sure all the world's a stage, buster—but YOU'RE overacting!"

CHANNEL CHATTER — Rodgers & Hammerstein are hauling Mary Martin out of TV to star in their new Broadway musical, "The Sound of Music." She'll play the famous Mother Trapp, head of the Trapp Family Choir, complete with the story of the one-time nuns escape from the Nazis during World War II.

Hugh O'Brian will take seven months away from his Wyatt Earping on the telebeam to star in Josh Logan's next play, as yet untitled, with the Theatre Guild producing.

ORDINANCE NO. 420

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, MAKING CHANGES TO DIVISION 8 OF THE "PALM SPRINGS ORDINANCE CODE" PROVIDING ELECTRICAL REGULATIONS FOR THE CITY BY AMENDING SECTIONS 8044.3, 8044.5, 8044.6, 8044.7, 8044.8, 8051.11, 8051.12, 8051.2, 8051.4, 8052.1, 8053, 8053.1, 8053.11, 8053.2, 8054.3, 8054.4, 8055, 8056.27, 8056.28, 8056.3, 8056.4, 8056.5, 8056.6; ADDING SECTIONS 8056.281, 8056.7, 8056.8, 8056.9; AND REPEALING SECTIONS 8051.3 and 8053.2....

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The above referred to sections in the electrical provisions of Division 8 of the "Palm Springs Ordinance Code" are amended to read as follows:

8044.3 PLANS. In all new construction, the application for building permits shall be accompanied by plans showing all electrical outlets, wire sizes and the service in accordance with the National Electric Code, Section 2205, or the application may be accompanied by wiring estimator sheet similar to the Westinghouse Wiring Estimtaor sheets. The Building Inspector may waive the requirements on remodel work.

8044.5 MAINTENANCE WIRING: In lieu of an individual permit for each alteration an annual permit may, upon application therefor, be issued to any person, firm or corporation regularly employing one or more maintenance men for maintenance of electrical wiring, devices, appliances and equipment on premises owned or occupied by the applicant for the permit. The application for such permits shall be made in writing to the Building Inspector and shall contain a description of the premises within which work is to be done under the permit. Within not more than fifteen (15) days following the end of each calendar month, the person, firm or corporation to which an annual permit is issued shall transmit to the Building Inspector a report of all the electrical work which has been done under the annual permit during the preceding month. Each annual permit shall expire on June 30th of the year in which it was issued.

8044.6 SPECIAL OWNER'S PERMIT. The Building Inspector may issue to an individual a Special Owner's Permit authorizing said individual to install alter, change or repair electrical equipment in or about a single-family dwelling of which said individual is the owner and resides therein, but not elsewhere, provided that no electrical work authorized under such Special Owner's Permit shall be done, nor shall the owner holding any such permit allow any such work to be done except personally by the owner to whom the permit is issued, or by a member of his immediate family; and if this or any other provision hereof shall be violated by the holder of such Special Owner's Permit, such permit shall be subject to immediate cancellation and the holder thereof shall be liable to the penalty hereinafter provided for violation of this code.

8044.7 LIMITATION: Special Owner's Permit will be issued to wire only single family dwellings in which the owner resides or intends to reside, after qualifying to do said work by submitting adequate plans for approval. The requirements of this code are hereby specifically declared to govern and control the installation, alteration or repair of any electric wire devices, appliances or equipment in any building or structure owned by or controlled by any public or quasi-public or political corporation or body, except as to such electric wiring as specifically exempted under this section.

8045.4 FEE SCHEDULE.

Outlets including switch and light outlets	10c each
Light fixtures	10c each
Meter loop	$1.00 each
Temporary Service	$2.00 each
220 volt outlets	50c each
All fixed appliances	35c each
Air conditioners—2 to 10 ton	$5.00 each
Air conditioners—over 10 ton	$10.00 each
Trailer Parks each space overhead	50c each
Trailer parks each space UNDERGROUND	$1.00 each

8051.11 USE OF NON-METALLIC CABLE: When non-metallic cable (romex) is installed, only the type incorporating an integral ground shall be used. This ground wire shall be turned back tight through the clamp, and said ground wire shall then be securely attached, electrically and mechanically, to the exterior back of the outlet box with a separate No. 10, or larger, bolt and nut. Not over two bond wires shall be attached to any one bolt. All branch circuits shall either terminate in or pass through a box installed flush with the finished surface. If it is necessary to extend non-metallic sheath cable (romex) beyond finished surface, it shall be protected by the use of a metallic raceway.

8051.12 METALLIC RACEWAY EQUIPMENT. Where it is necessary to conceal conductors in an open beam ceiling or masonry, a metallic raceway terminating at an accessible junction box at each end, through which conductors may be installed or withdrawn, shall be mandatory.

8051.2 METALLIC OUTLET BOXES. All outlet boxes shall be metallic. (Refer to Section 3709, National Electric Code, for sizes.)

8051.4 PLUSH FIXTURES: Plush fixture lamp sockets shall be wired only with approved asbestos covered wire, extended to a junction box. This junction box shall not be directly attached to the top of a fixture unless only asbestos type wire enters and/or leaves said box.

8052.1 ALTERATIONS OR ADDITIONS TO EXISTING INSTALLATIONS: All addition or extensions other than to a single-family residence in R-1 zones shall be in metallic raceway through which conductors may be installed or withdrawn. Additions or extensions to existing wiring shall not overload the circuit to which they are attached and shall in no case exceed the legal number of outlets, or shall run from a fuse or breaker at the panel as separate circuits. When additions or extensions to the service panel or branch circuit panel are made, all fuses or breakers shall be left on completion of the job in accordance with Sections 8056.22 and 8056.23, and all fuses in the panel shall be of the non-tamperable type.

8053. SERVICES.

8053.1 SERVICE ENTRANCE CONDUCTORS. All service entrance conductors shall be installed in approved rigid galvanized or sherridized conduit, or other approved raceway, except that other methods of installation complying with the California State Electrical Safety Orders shall be used for installation of high voltage conductors. Attention is called to requirements of the local servicing company.

8053.11 RESIDENTIAL SERVICES: All breaker or fuse panels serving a building for R-1 occupancy shall be provided with four extra breakers, fuses or spaces for the installation of breakers or fuse. These four extra breaker or fuses shall have a total combined capacity of 8 KW in addition to the demand of all circuits required for the building at the time of completion. The main disconnect switch or breaker shall have a capacity to serve connected load demands, plus 8 KW, but in no case shall main disconnect switch and service be less than 100 AMP capacity. The conduit shall not be less than 1½" nor the wire size less than No. 2. The neutral service conductors shall be sized as called for in Article 220 of the National Electric Code, but shall be not less than 70% of the load-carrying capacity of the underground conductors. Where multiple meters are installed, one meter shall be designated as the house meter, two extra breakers to be attached to this meter.

8054.3 DWELLING DEMAND FACTORS: Demand factors for service and feeder conductors serving buildings for dwelling occupancy shall be calculated in accordance with the Schedule of Unit Loads in Article 8054.2 of this Code.

8054.4 COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL DEMAND FACTORS: Demand factors for service and feeder conductors serving buildings for commercial and industrial occupancy shall be calculated in accordance with Schedule of Unit Loads in Article 8055 of this Code.

8055. MINIMUM UNIT LOADS: Service and feeder demand factors shall be as set forth in Article 220 and Section 2203 of the National Electric Code.

8056.27 GARBAGE DISPOSAL UNITS, DISHWASHERS, CLOTHES WASHING FACILITIES, DESERT COOLERS, ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYERS, MOTORS RATED 1/3 H.P. AND OVER, ANY OTHER FIXED APPLIANCE OR DEVICE RATED 1000 WATTS OR MORE: Each shall be installed on a separate branch circuit and each such appliance shall be grounded to its branch circuit.

8056.28 In addition to Section 8056.27, all kitchens shall have a minimum of two separate appliance convenience outlet circuits. Kitchen convenience outlets shall be equally distributed on these circuits. Such outlets shall have 3-wire grounding type receptacles.

8056.3 RACEWAY TERMINATION: In single-family dwellings, two 3/4 inch raceways shall be installed, one of which shall terminate in an accessible attic space, if available, and the other below outside finished grade. If attic space is not available, both will terminate below ground or at a junction box on the wall.

8056.4 RECEPTACLE OUTLET REQUIREMENT. Receptacle outlets shall be installed as specified in the following: In every breakfast room or nook, dining room or area, living room, parlor, sun room, library, den, recreation room, bedroom, dressing room and sewing room a sufficient number of receptacle outlets shall be installed in the wall or in the floor within eight inches (8") of the wall, so that any point around the wall when measured horizontally along the wall at the floor line, will not be a greater distance than six feet (6') from a receptacle outlet.

All portions of walls that are four feet (4') or more in length and isolated by doors shall have at least one (1) receptacle outlet installed. The receptacle outlets required by this section shall be exclusive of any receptacles:

1. That are part of any lighting fixture or appliance except those used in bathrooms; or
2. Located inside cabinets or cupboards; or
3. Located over five feet six inches (5'6") high; or
4. Located under sinks; or
5. Supplied by a branch circuit rated 20 amperes or over.

8056.5 OUTDOOR WIRING: All wiring and devices exposed to weather, such as yard lighting, tree lighting, fence lighting, etc., shall be installed only in approved raceways or cables and all fittings, fixtures and devices shall be approved weatherproof type. Exterior convenience outlets shall be of the 3-wire grounded type receptacles with hinged cover. Exterior wiring and/or light stubouts shall be on one or more separate circuits.

8056.6 BATHROOM CIRCUIT REQUIREMENTS. In all rooms containing bathing facilities where a fixed electric bathroom heater is not provided, one 3-prong grounded receptacle shall be installed on a separate circuit.

SECTION 2. New sections 8056.281, 8056.7, 8056.8, and 8056.9 are hereby added to Division 8 of the "Palm Springs Ordinance Code" to read as follows:

8056.281 SPECIAL CIRCUITS. All circuits of Section 8056.27 and all power and run feed circuits in new construction shall be wired in metallic raceways through which conductors may be installed or withdrawn. Conduit installed for central air-conditioning condensing units shall be not less than ¾ inch per unit.

8056.7 MOTOR WIRING: The circuit conductors for all motors shall be sized for name plate or calculated horsepower carrying capacity, in accordance with Tables, 21, 22, 23, and 24, of Chapter 10 of the National Electric Code, and the Sections 4314 and 4315, whichever is applicable, but in no case shall the wire size be less than No. 12.

8056.8 DAMP LOCATIONS: All wiring installed below ground levels, such as vaults or pits, shall be in metallic raceways. Motors shall be connected by the use of flexible neoprene three wire cord using a three wire grounded plug in receptacle.

8056.9 FINAL INSPECTION. At time of final inspection, all circuits shall be connected to their break or fuse at supply panel.

SECTION 3. Section 8051.3 and 8053.2 of Division 8 of the "Palm Springs Ordinance Code" are hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. The City Clerk is hereby ordered and directed to certify to the passage of this ordinance and to cause the same to be published in THE DESERT SUN, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of Palm Springs, California. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after passage.

F.M. BOGERT,
MAYOR
of Palm Springs, California.

ATTEST:
MARY G. RINGWALD
CITY CLERK
of Palm Springs, California.
(SEAL)

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs, California, hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance, being Ordinance No. 420, of the City of Palm Springs, was introduced by title at a meeting of the City Council of said City held on the 25th day of March, 1959. Thereafter and on the 8th day of April, 1959, the second reading of said ordinance was waived and the ordinance was duly passed by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen McKinney, Wolf, Wood, Carlin, Beebe, Hardy and Mayor Bogert.
NOES: None.
ABSENT: None.

I further certify that the said Ordinance was thereupon signed by F. M. BOGERT Mayor of Palm Springs, and attested by MARY G. RINGWALD, City Clerk of said City.

WITNESS my hand and seal of said City this 9th day of April, 1959.

MARY G. RINGWALD
City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs

I hereby certify that the foregoing Ordinance and Certificate were published April 21, 1959, in The Desert Sun, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of Palm Springs, California.

MARY G. RINGWALD
City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs

Sales, Use Tax Receipts Show Sharp Climb

Retail tax recipts shot up to a new high of $84,307 for the month of January, making the first month of 1959 the busiest in the city's retail history.

City Finance Director Shelby Langford said January sales and use tax receipts brought the current fiscal year's revenue to $221,873, almost one income month ahead of last year.

Total sales and use tax receipts from July through January registered $221,873, as compared to $202,435 for the same period last year and $222,795 through February of fiscal 1958.

Tax receipts for January, 1958, were $68,708 and the previous high for any one month was $80,112 for April, 1958.

Langford explained that tax totals for January were delayed by the state, which reports on receipts 90 days after it completes collections.

Seven Dwelling Permits Issued In Palm Desert

PALM DESERT — Permits to construct seven dwellings on 44th Street here have been issued to Sproul Homes Incorporated, with a total valuation of $82,625, records indicated here today.

Two dwellings, at 74-062 and 74-144, are valued at $11,772; four others, at 74-111, 74-138, 74-096 and 74-150 are listed at $11,660, and the seventh, at 74-130, is valued at $11,865.

In another report, M. Russell was issued a permit to roof a porch at 72-906 Sonora Street. It is valued at $576.

HERE IN STRAWBERRY VALLEY lie hidden homes of Idyllwild, popular summer and winter resort area in the San Jacinto Mountain. It is becoming more and more popular each year as a vacation spot, with many persons also establishing year-around residence.

Bomb Threat Found False

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Airlines officials and the FBI today were investigating a false bomb threat that delayed five planes and forced an extensive search Monday night in Salt Lake City, Boise and Denver.

An anxious crowd of onlookers watched while law enforcement officers searched three Western Airlines planes at the Salt Lake Municipal Airport after an anonymous caller said a bomb was aboard one of the crafts.

The three flights were delayed for more than two hours after a man called Kemp and Kelsey Air Service and reported the bomb.

A search of the planes and baggage failed to uncover any explosives.

United Air Lines searched two of their planes for a possible bomb. One plane was searched in Boise after it had flown there from Salt Lake City. A second plane was delayed one hour in Denver after authorities were notified of the alleged bomb. Both flights continued when no explosives were found.

Captain Brown Services Set For Wednesday

Capt. Alfred P. Brown, a six-year resident of the desert area, died in Desert Hospital here Sunday following a year and a half illness. He was 69.

The captain, former vice president of the Tracey Towing Co. and general sales manager of Todd Shipyards at Long Beach had spent his summers in Studio City but had devoted the bulk of each year to living at his Yucca Valley home.

Survived by his wife, Kathryn, Capt. Brown will be feted with Masonic funeral rites at Rainbow Chapel in Rose Hills Memorial Park at 2:30 p.m., tomorrow. Lodge No. 662 of Beverly Hills is to officiate at the ceremony.

Interment is scheduled to follow in Rose Hills Cemetery. Wiefel and Son, Palm Springs, is in charge of arrangements for the funeral and burial.

Bobsledding has been an Olympic Game since 1928.

SAN JANCINTO'S PEAKS 'SHEEREST'

1958. In dry winters the valley grass is eaten down by grazing cattle till erosion becomes a severe hazard to the future of the meadow land.

THOMAS MOUNTAIN, a pyramid-type saddle-back mountain, extends across the southern length of the valley. North of it is higher May Valley, forested with pine and chaparral (this last the aftermath of fires), at the north edges of which are small and attractive ranches. Cedar Crest is perhaps the most inviting of these, with a lovely spring surrounded by strawberries and a grove of cedars. I remember best, perhaps the green apples we used to munch riding homeward after a day's visit.

West-northwest of Thomas Valley, next along the Palms to Pines Highway, is the Keen Camp valley, early site of lumbering and first road's end in the 1880's. Mountain Center lies at the lower western end of this "valley" at about 4,200 feet elevation. Half a mile below Mountain Center on the road to Hemet, the climate changes, snows melt almost before they stick, forests are slow to return after fires, the hillsides drop successfully down-canyon to the Hemet-San Jacinto valley.

ABOVE AND NORTH of Mountain Center lies another valley—a pocket in the granite structure of the mountain-heart. Here is Idyllwild, set in the tall pines at 5,100 feet against the backdrop of eight and ten thousand foot peaks immediately east and north of it.

One of my constant thrills is to turn the corner of the highway wyhere it swings into "Strawberry Valley" and look down that avenue of tall pines across the little forest valley in which the village and homes of Idyllwild lie hidden and see the bouldered peaks rising high above them.

SOMETIMES THE AIR is so clear it seems as if one could touch each pine on that high skyline. Sometimes it is soft and hazy and the valley seems suddenly from some far-off corner of the world. Then, too, there are those nights when snow has fallen and a high moon shines its light with breathtaking brilliance on the now-smooth contours of the peaks.

But let us take the eagles' wings and soar to the "top-country," as we call it. The up-draft of the little valley takes us into the puff of cloud forming and disappearing at about 10,000 feet. From above it we may glimpse an overview of the entire east watershed in the Mount San Jacinto Wild Area and State Park Primitive Area.

Ford's for the business

There's no reason why a pleasure car shouldn't give you the economies of the businessman's favorite personal transportation. And, of course, it does—when it's a Ford. Every Ford with standard Six or Thunderbird V-8 uses regular gas...needs an oil change only every 4,000 miles... never needs it's Diamond Lustre finish waxed...and has aluminized mufflers for twice the life. You'll enjoy the pleasure of saving money in cars like these:

Custom 300 Tudor Sedan... The best thing that ever happened to an expense account or modest family budget. In a lot of Ford families, this is the perfect companion to a Ranch Wagon.

Ranch Wagon... the thriftiest 2-door wagon going. Wagons by Ford make getting there half the fun of any outing.

Maybe you don't buy a car very often. But we know how much you'll enjoy your new Ford. And the pleasant experience of dealing locally! In fact, we'll make it worth your while to become our steady customer.

Cancer Society Warns of Quacks

The American Cancer Society currently in the midst of its month-long Cancer Crusade is helping to fight the cancer quackery by alerting the public to common misconceptions about the disease, it was pointed out today by Joe Henderson, Crusade chairman for the Palm Springs Unit, Riverside County Branch, American Cancer Society.

He said the Society's constant emphasis on the fact that radiation and surgery are the only known methods for curing cancer has made it harder for quacks to sell their "secret" medicines and gadgets.

"UNFORTUNATELY," he added, "there always will be gullible people willing to place their faith in quack promises instead of seeking legitimate cure. The tragedy of such cases is that cancer gains on the patient when treatment is delayed until too late to save his life."

Fear perhaps is the main force which drives people to a cancer quack, he commented. "Some people don't want to face up to reality, and the quack leads them to believe that under his care they will be all right."

"IRONICALLY, THE fear of cancer also keeps health patients in the clutches of the quacks. The patients are told they have cancer when in reality they don't. The quack keeps them coming for 'treatment' and finally announces a 'cure'."

As a part of its education program, he said, the American Cancer Society advocates regular health checkups by one's family physician as a form of insurance against cancer.

"EARLY CANCERS often can be detected in the course of a routine examination," he declared. Between examinations, one should be alert to cancer's early warning signs, he added.

Information about health checkups and cancer's Seven Danger Signals have been mailed and distributed to every home in Palm Springs during the current Crusade.

CVSL Baseball Nine Wins Over L.A. Team, 13-4

Palm Springs baseball team playing under the colors of the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association, turned on the power Sunday to defeat the Delara All Stars of East Los Angeles 13 to 4 at the Polo Grounds Sunday.

It was the first win of the season for the local club.

Leading the local attack with two hits each were Frank Toth, Bruno DiGrandi, Frank Burgess and Paul Dunn.

Max Melton and Al Aguilar did the hurling for the local nine and limited the visitors to eight hits.

Bill Murphy of the visitors has a perfect day at bat, four out of four.

John Marinko, manager of the CVSL team, said that, at last it looks that our team is beginning to jell.

The score:

	R	H	E
Delara Stars	4	8	5
C V S L	13	14	2

Rodriguez and Firestone; Milton, Aguilar and Burgess.

Yankee Fan Asks $250,000 Damages

NEW YORK (UPI) — A fan who suffered the loss of his left eye after being struck by a foul ball during last year's World Series has sued the New York Yankees for $250,000.

Claude O. Price, 64, Hampton, Va., filed the suit Monday in Federal Court here. He charged negligence that cost him "lasting injury."

Drysdale Hurls L.A. 2-1 Win Over Giants

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Those long-suffering Los Angeles fans are finally convinced that it's true what the experts said about Don Drysdale.

One of the biggest flops of the 1958 season, the 22-year-old sidearmer pitched the best game of his career Monday night and beat the San Francisco Giants, 2-1, on Charlie Neal's ninth-inning homer. The victory moved the Dodgers past the Giants into second place in the National League.

DRYSDALE, WHO BEAT Sam Jones in a brilliant mound duel, yielded only three hits and struck out 11 to score his second victory of the season. He has struck out 25 batters in 24 innings to lead the league in that department and seems well on his way toward the brilliant season predicted for him a year ago.

Then, Drysdale started the season as the overwhelming choice of the experts to be the league's pitcher of the year. But he dropped his first five decisions, didn't win his second game of the season until May 21 and wound up with a thoroughly disappointing 12-13 record for the year.

THE 6-FOOT, 6-INCH, 210-pound right-hander flashed brilliant form during spring training but suffered a 6-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs in his first start. He bounced back four days later, however, with an eight-hit shutout against the St. Louis Cardinals, so now has yielded 10 hits and one run in his last 18 innings.

A crowd of 32,946 gave Drysdale an ovation when he retired the side in the ninth inning and after the game the young pitcher said, "I think that's the greatest game I ever pitched." Willie Mays homered over the short left field fence in the first inning but Drysdale didn't allow another hit until the eighth.

The game was the only one played in either league Monday. New York at Boston in the American League was rained out and the Pittsburgh - Philadelphia National League night game was called at the end of the first inning because of rain and wet grounds.

Fahy Wins in Auto Dealers Golf Tourney

Takes 14th Annual Event Played at Thunderbird Club

Bob Fahy of Banning hung on in the final day of competition to defeat Robert Shannon, two and one, and win the 14th Annual Golf Tourament of the Motor Car Dealers Association of Southern California at Thunderbird Country Club here.

It was the third time in the 14-year history of the event that Thunderbird hosted the 72-hole mach play.

D. C. STACHLER, owner of Palm Springs' Stack Chevrolet Company, finished first in the fourth flight of the tournament. E. E. Rubel won the competition in the President's Flight, according to chairman Chuck Elmendorf.

Flight winners included:

GARY BIZANTE 1; Jim White, 2; James R. Cross, 3; Pascal Dilday, 5; J. R. Townsend, 6; Louis Frahm, 7; George F. Karl, 8; Robert R. Walker, First Guest, and Wert Headley, Second Guest.

Awards for all winners were presented at a dinner-dance held Saturday in the El Mirador Hotel here.

Expect Long to Break O'Brien's Mark Saturday

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Track writers and coaches have predicted sensational Dallas Long will set a new world's shot put record Friday night in the Mt. San Antonio College Relays.

Long, of the University of Southern California frosh, was tabbed to heave the shot for a record 63 feet, 9¾ inches. The present record of 62 feet, 2 inches is shared by Long and Parry O'Brien.

Thompson Moves Up Fight Ladder

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eddie (Macine Gun) Thompson, who surprised by winning in a substitute's role, laid plans for another step up the boxing ladder today.

Thompson, who replaced the ailing Randy Sandy, beat Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba on a split decision in a fairly dull 10-round non-televised bout at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. Each fighter weighed 157½.

Barbara Williams Tops Women's Golf

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Barbara Williams, 20, a dentist's assistant from Richmond who was medalist in the qualifying round, tees off against Harriet Sheldon of Bakersfield today in the opening of the California Women's Amateur Golf Championships at Brentwood Country Club.

Littler Stays At 5-1 to Win At Las Vegas

26 Champions in Practice Rounds For Week's Play

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Most of the star-packed field for the $40,000 Tournament of Champions settled down to practice rounds today in preparation for the start of play in the four-day tournament Thursday.

A chartered plane brought a majority of the 26 starters in the Tournament of Champions here from Houston where they competed in the Houston Classic last week end.

On hand to welcome them were Stan Leonard, the defending champion, and Gene Littler, three-time winner of the tournament at the Desert Inn course.

Littler's past record in the tournament made him the 5-1 favorite to score his fourth win. But Masters champ Art Wall Jr., the hottest pro on the circuit, and steady Arnold Palmer were second choices at 6-1.

With eligibility for the tournament limited to winners of major golf fixtures during the 12 months through the Masters tournament, each of the participants is guaranteed $1,000 and the winner's share amount to $10,000.

Oksanen Wins in Boston Marathon

BOSTON (UPI) — Finnish detective Eino Oksanen held a coveted laurel wreath and diamond-studded gold medal today for winning the 63rd annual Boston A.A. Marathon.

The well-muscled Oksanen brought Finland its third Marathon victory Monday by forging past the favored Johnny Kelley of Groton, Conn., with less than a mile left in the 26-mile 385-yard course and winning by some 300 yards.

INDIAN NET TEAMS MEET HEMET HERE IN TITLE MATCHES

Palm Springs High School tennis teams, both Boys and Girls, undefeated in Riverside County League matches to date, face the big test this week.

Both meet Hemet High, the boys tomorrow and the girls Thursday. Hemet also has undefeated records in both divisions.

Coach Seamus Nunan's boys team has blanked all opposition to date, having won five matches by 31-0 scores.

Tomorrow's matches here will probably decide the RCL boys' net title.

Coach Moya Henderson's girls' team hosts Hemet here on Thursday and this match may also decide the league title.

Tribe, Beaumont End First Round Of RCL Today

Palm Springs Indians baseball team, currently leading the Riverside County League with a 5-1 record, entertains Beaumont High here this afternoon in the last game of the first round of play and in their first game at home.

Beaumont has a 3-2 mark in RCL competition to date.

Coach George Scholl was happy with the Tribe's road record, five wins out of six, and was hopeful that the home stand, when they have the last chance at bat, would be equally successful.

San Jacinto comes here Thursday to start the second round.

This week's games start at 4 p.m.

Green, Smith Lead North-South Play

PINEHURST, N. C. (UPI) — Peter Green, an 18-year-old college freshman, and tourney veteran Dave Smith carried co-medalist honors today into the opening round of match play in the 59th annual North and South Amateur golf championship.

Burke Captures Houston Classic For Second Time

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UPI) — Jack Burke Jr., who won $4,300 Monday for shooting a brilliant round of golf, teamed with old friend Jimmy Demaret today to open a swank new golf club in their home town.

Bueke, 36, won the $30,000 Houston Classic invitational golf tournament Monday for the second time, firing an eight-under-par 64 to defeat Julius Boros in an 18-hole playoff. Boros had a three-under-par 69 and collected $3,000 second-place money.

Burke will pass up this week's Las Vegas tournament because he is taking part in the opening of his new club, named the Champions Golf Club.

Commander Horner Gives Reports On Conditions Today in Hong Kong

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Commander Maurice Horner, USN, Ret., a Palm Springs resident currently touring the Far East and the Pacific, theaters with which he became well acquainted during and after World War II. His graphic and personal reports from the Far East will be presented exclusively in the pages of The Desert Sun. This is the first of Commander Horner's Far East dispatches to Palm Springs.)

By CMDR. MAURICE HORNER

KOWLOON, HONG KONG — We have been here in Hong Kong for more than two weeks. During this time, I have had the opportunity of meeting and speaking to people in various states of social and economic standing.

These contacts have given me sundry and varied impressions of the present situation.

I WAS HERE FOUR years ago, but many changes are evident. The physical changes in Hong Kong since then are comparable to developments in Palm Springs —there are many new and large housing and commercial projects.

Most of these projects are locally financed, although the individuals furnishing the capital realize that their investments are insecure because the Communists could take possession in a few hours' time.

But they feel that they have no other alternative. They are literally frozen here, as they can't go to any other country permanently.

THEIR ATTITUDE is that they are better off enjoying their present uncertain status, while it lasts; and they will at least have lived temporarily in security (they make the best of a precarious situation).

There is deep-rooted dissatisfaction with the Communist regime. Great numbers of Red Chinese are still arriving in Hong Kong and Kowloon.

Skilled workmen (tailors, shoemakers, etc.) get employment here—leaving their families across the border, sending them a little money from time to time.

THEY BELONG TO the local unions, which are Communist controlled, and are employed by industries which are capitalized and owned by Red Chinese "fronted" by local Hong Kong citizens.

They are "advised" to divorce the wives that they left behind so that the wives can be put to work in communal activities in Red China and become "producers," since they would lose their means of support were they single.

This would help increase production of Red China and, if they remained, they would be attached to loyal Red males to help increase the population.

BUT THERE ARE three principal causes for resentment against the Red "homeland" —the promises the Red regime made the people:

1—Free speech and criticism of current policies (virtually complete freedom).

2—Families and communities, as opposed to existing communal living conditions and education, where families are separated. (They feel that they have lost all hopes for security and basic human rights).

3—Freedom of worship according to the individual's choice.

THESE PROMISES have not materialized. The result is apparent.

The Communists have lost a noticeable amount of prestige and confidence — they are "losing face."

The semi-military labor colonies are extremely unpopular. The local authorities are doing everything possible to employ, feed house and clothe the ever-increasing refugees.

As an example, eight women are employed at every eighth of a mile interval at the popular and beautiful Hoppy Valley Hong Kong Jockey Club. (Thirty thousand people attended the East race meeting here March 30).

THEIR WORK consists of smoothing the turf after each race by means of walking over the damaged areas. For this they receive the munificent sum of 88 cents (U.S. currency) a day.

This will give them enough to buy their food and necessities.

One tractor, with a roller, could do the same work much more quickly and thoroughly.

There is great dissatisfaction with the Reds' edict to restrict fishing to a limit beyond eight miles of the local waters.

FISHING IS ONE of the most important industries engaged in by the local populace — most of the junks and fishing boats are not equipped with motors, so many of the fishermen and their families have lost their only means of sustenance and support.

In Macao, the Reds have installed a dam across the Pearl River. It can shut off the fresh water supply for that Portugese Colony and, by this means, they charge the colony for its fresh water.

THE INHABITANTS consider this as a means of actually making them pay tribute to the Reds. The entire colony is desperately poverty-stricken, so this added expense is deeply resented.

To sum it all up — it appears that Communism is not popular in this environment, and the feeling is that someday (no one knows when there will be an uprising throughout the Red regime and Communist dominated territories.

But the proper time is anxiously awaited. Then, some strong, well-organized, well - led organization will inaugurate an offensive to overthrow the present, hated regime.

THE BETTER EDUCATED "masses" are very well inclined towards the United States and consider the Americans (and the British) as their friends.

Our next stop will be Tokyo and the Imperial Hotel, where we will visit for one month.

Traffic Toll Soars in State First 3 Months

Californians are killing more people in automobile accidents, compared to last year, and "every motorist must accept his responsibility to drive safely and legally" to prevent 1959 from becoming the worst year ever for traffic deaths.

So said Bradford M. Crittenden, Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol in announcing that the traffic death toll for the first three months of the year was more than 15 per cent higher than for the first quarter of 1958. Preliminary figures show that 837 persons have died in highway crashes this year in California, compared to 724 a year ago.

"The fact that the death toll is also up nationwide is little consolation," Crittenden declared. "We must stop the upward trend in California, and it is most important that every motorist constantly use defensive driving techniques. Each driver must expect the unexpected and be prepared to take necessary action to avoid conflict.

"The California Highway Patrol will continue its bigorous enforcement against accident causing violations. We are determined to curb the illegal activities of motorists who refuse to accept their responsibilities to themselves and their fellow drivers."

NORTH PALM SPRINGS

By ORPHA GEIER

Dorothy Vandexter announced her engagement to William A. "Tex" Carleton of Citrus Heights. Dorothy has been a resident of North Palm Springs since 1949 and has assisted in the Post Office since 1955. She has been very active in community endeavors. Carleton has been spending winters in the desert for the last four years and has made a host of friends here.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fallis entertained at dinner in their honor. Guests included Edna Iverson, Vida Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Newberry, Natina Klocke and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schlatter.

Following the dinner the guests gathered next door at the home of Vida Tanner where they were met by Freda Seeley and Dick and Marie Maher who presented Dorothy with a three piece set of luggage, lingerie, slippers and a [illegible] representing the well wishes of the following friends: Alice and Bill Kipley, W. O. and Winnie Newberry, Ruby Gunn and family, Natina Klocke, Guy and Cynthia Fallis, Vida Tanner, Freda Seeley and family, Art Harris, L. T. and Victoria Williams, Frank and Maybelle Schaltter, Lee and Renee Chronister, Kay and Ed Hamm, Georgia Goforth and family, Bernice Futrell and family, Frances Cronholm, Orpha Geier, Margaret Stein, John and Lora Rose, T. D. and Nelle Pendergast, Edna Chandler and family, Elton and Zepha Holmes, Edna Iverson and Eloise Perkins and family. A $10 check also was given her by the Chamber of Commerce.

The couple drove to Las Vegas where they were married at the First Methodist Church. They returned for a reception given for them at the recreation hall at Tramview Ranch. Tuesday morning the new Mr. and Mrs. Carleton left for their new home in Citrus Heights. And with them went the wishes of everyone in North Palm Springs for every success and happiness.

Residents of North Palm Springs wish to offer a vote of thanks to Glen Buckland of the Buckland Security Police Patrol for his able assistance during our recent emergency. It was Mr. Buckland who with the assistance of Lyle Foubert and William Rahming took Salvador Azzarella into custody last Wednesday.

Edna Mackey and Ann Messer drove to Redlands on Monday to take baby Elizabeth Mackey for a visit to Dr. John Paulson.

Announcements have been received of the arrival on Feb. 3 of Kenneth Alan Yager to Marvin and Suzanne Yager at Berkeley. Marvin is a former resident of North Palm Springs and graduated from Palm Springs High School with the class of '56.

He won several scholarships, among them one to U.C. at Berkeley where he is majoring in Medical Science. This year he has scholarships to both Heidelberg, Germany, and Dartmouth University at Hanover, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Jones are out from Minneapolis for a few days visit with Sid and Ann Lee, their first get together in 20 years. Mr. Jones is recently retired after 42 years service with Western Electric Co. Sid and Ernie are former brothers-in-law.

Out for Sunday on the desert were Darrell and Carol Geier and Vivien of Ontario and Vic and Bea Curatolo, formerly of Detroit, Mich., now of Pomona. They visited at the home of Darrell's mother here and enjoyed a swim party at the B-Bar-H Ranch.

New Air Force Training School Program Set

The U. S. Air Force is now offering married or single college graduates in flying and technical fields a chance to take advantage of a new Officers Training School program.

Sgt. Ray Tieman of the Riverside USAF Recruiting Office at Room 266 in the Post Office, said that officer trainees receive the pay and allowances of a staff sergeant and undergo three months of officer training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, prior to their commissioning as second lieutenants in the Reserve Air Force.

Further information on the new "Commissions for College Graduates" program may be obtained from Sergeant Tieman at his office in Riverside between 8 and 5 Monday through Friday and from 9 to 12 noon on Saturday. The phone number of the U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office is OVerland 4-0750.

Wild Serves On USS Blue

Robert Wild, fireman, USN, of 316 North Palm Canyon Drive, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Blue with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

A unit of Destroyer Squadron 13, the Blue is expected to visit Hong Kong, B.C.C., Manilla, P.I., and Sasebo, Japan.

In 1685, only 2,000 persons lived in Belfast, which is now the capital of Ulster, or Northern Ireland, and has a population of 450,000.

70-Home Construction Program Paces Building

A huge, 70-home construction program will be launched here immediately by the George Alexander Construction Co., according to permits issued by the building department.

Alexander was issued permits for the $840,000 home building program last week and also drew permits for $21,000 in swimming pools at seven of the locations.

The city total permit valuation for the week missed a million dollars by only $14,500.

ALEXANDER WILL build the new dwellings at 2312, 2349, 2366, 2384, 2311 and 2342 Dunes Road; at 2311, 2349, 2391, 2415, 2453, and 2475 Avenida Caballeros; at 688, 724, 712, 889, 835, 797, 781, 715, 755, 681, 600, 603, 888, 850, 810, 792, 766 and 656 Spencer Drive; at 971, 909, 891, 653, 837, 809, 783, 753, 605, 651, 679, 697, 717, 750, 784, 840, 666, 680 and 650 Alexander Way; at 2344, 2334 and 2318 Via Miraleste, at 2335, 2373 and 2332 Rock Circle; at 2365, 2390, and 2372 Trail Circle; at 2333, 2360 and 2334 Ace Circle and at 601, 655, 675, 703, 757, 805, 841, 915 and 897 Racquet Club Road.

Each of the houses is valued at $12,000.

Alexander indicated that he would add pools, valued at $3,000 each, to the properties at 2391 Avenida Caballeros; at 712, 724, 850 and 837 Spencer Drive, and at 655 and 675 Racquet Club Road.

THE REST OF the Village's building permits included:

Knudsen Wins Top Award in Safety Contest

The Knudsen Creamery Co. of California has been named the winner of the top award in the fifth annual Traffic Safety Awards Program, sponsored by the American Association of Industrial Editors.

According to K. C. Morley of New Jersey, chairman of the association's committee administering the 1958 Traffic Awards Program, the $500 award will be presented to John Kieldrup, editor of the Knudsen employe publication "Skimmings," for the outstanding program that has been developed by Knudsen in promoting highway safety.

The program established a little more than a year ago has been administered by Knudsen's Industrial Relations Department. The majority of Knudsen's personnel who drive participated in a series of vehicle tests and class-

Your Car And The Law

REGISTRATION DOLLARS

For most California motorists, a silver-white reflectorized sticker with a bit of black type ("California '59") attached firmly to the rear plate of the car, means "Renewal" for the year's driving.

In the Department of Motor Vehicles, "Renewal" is the year's big mass production job of fee collection, vehicle registration recording, and issuing evidence of a new year's registration to the motoring millions.

THE MAJORITY OF renewals are applied for on or before Feb. 4 of each year, under a deadline established in law. The number of applications received to that date by DMV throughout the State in 1959 was 6,912,095. Of these 3,718,480 were brought into DMV's 130 field offices.

Temporary registration stations for punched card renewals, set up in banks througout the State, produced another 1,380,401. People who applied early (when they bought cars in December, 1958, or for other reasons) added 341,963 to these. Mail applicatons that came to Sacramento DMV headquarters numbered 519,560.

THE FEES COLLECTED through the end of February, 1959, amounted to $172,000,000. Half of this is budgeted for highway purposes; State law enforcement activity and emergency safety services of the California Highway Patrol; and for the registration, licensing, driver testing, financial responsibility functions related to accident cases, and identification record - keeping services of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The other half is divided between cities and counties for general public purposes. Local units are not permitted to put property taxes on motor vehicles. And your own daily driving experience tells you that state, city, and county alike have plenty of headache types of problems caused by the current and rising flood of motor vehicles.

IN CALIFORNIA, in fact, there is a rising urgency market for all the services supported by vehicle fees. The key to this is the general demand for increasing the public safety on the highways — and for action against the negligent and unsafe driver or owner.

By the end of 1959, the grand total of vehicles registered for operation on California highways will be higher by a good million than the number "renewed" at hte start of the year.

Hazel Micelli Wins B of A Award

Judges Are Civic Leaders

Hazel Micelli, Palm Springs High School senior, was one of 12 student winners in the annual Bank of America statewide Achievement Awards program, held last weekend at the Oasis Hotel.

Miss Micelli took third place in her category, liberal arts, and won $25 in cash.

THE FOUR students who won first place prizes, which will take them on to Los Angeles and the Statler Hotel where they will vie in the finals, were Carroll Hindman, Colton Union High School; Lynn Thompson, Redlands High School; Ian C. Dangler, Coachella High School, and John L. Flowers, Colton Union High School.

Second place winners, each receiving a $50 cash award, were Barbara Ann Totten, Polytechnic High School; Carolyn Hart, Colton High School; David V. Curtis, Ramona High School, and Patrick A. Dennis, Central Union High School.

THE OTHER third place winners were Terry E. Todd, Ramona High School; James R. Brague, Ramona High School, and Lannon Kern, Brawley Union High School.

Winners were picked by a panel of civic leaders, who met the 26 competing students and heard them in group discussions of present day problems related to their studies. Scoring was based on school grades, leadership, outside activities, and group discussions.

THE FOUR leaders in the local contest will each receive at least $100 with the winner of the finals to be given $1,000 as first place. The awards will be presented on May 15 at a dinner honoring 450 students, parents, educators and prominent citizens.

Thursday's judges, prominent in their communities for civic, business, or youth work, were: Walter Burr, Brawley; Dr. Caroline M. Prendergast, Redlands; Mrs. P. A. Staley, Palm Springs; Rev. George F. Walker, Jr., Colton; and C. A. Washburn, Indio. Chairman of the group was Dr. George H. Armacost, president of the University of Redlands.

CASH AWARD WINNERS in the annual Bank of America sponsored Achievement Awards program were Ian C. Dengler, Coachella Valley Union High School; Hazel Micelli, Palm Springs High School, and David V. Curtis, Ramona High School. Presenting the awards at right, is Dr. George Armacost, chairman of the judging committee, and looking on at left is Fred Ingram, vice president and manager of the Palm Springs branch of the Bank of America. Zara Doloukhanova Sets Top Standard of Quality

By GEORGE LAINE

The Bolshoi Ballet, one of a string of 1959 Russian cultural exchanges with the United States, is due in Los Angeles next month but some of the fine edge of that anticipated arrival came off in the smoggy metropolis last weekend.

Zara Doloukhanova, billed as a Russo-Armenian mezzo soprano was presented by impresario Mary Bran at the Los Angeles Philharmonic and set such an absolute standard of impeccable quality as to put anything that follows from behind the Iron Curtain to a rigid test.

DOLOUKHANOVA, a real mezzo for a change, sang everything she could lay her tongue to and sang it well. She is blessed with the consummate range that mezzos are supposed to have but seldom possess. What she does with that range — and with that warm and sensitive voice — are demonstrations of the sheerest technical ability.

The first half of her program was Russian (Tchaikowsky, Rachmaninoff, Prokofieff) and Armenian (Doloukhanian, Amanjukian folk) songs. Highlight was the sad and wistful "The Dream" — least familiar of three Rachmaninoff songs — which the soprano sang with lyricism and rapport.

THE CROWD demanded and received two encores and the chances are good that they would have kept Mme. Doloukhanova on the Philharmonic stage until her visa expired had they been able to do so.

In the second half of the program, the mezzo—who wore diamond earrings, diamond necklace, diamond brooch and a huge diamond ring, almost like the capitalistic singers — changed her pattern.

She sang two Schubert songs, two more by Strauss, Ravel's magnificent "Vocalise" in the habanera form, two songs by Faure and an excerpt from Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue."

She encored this half with Cyril Scott's "Lullabye," sung in fairly comprehensible English, with the "Una voce poco fa" from Rossini's "Barber of Seville" and two Armenian songs I have never heard before but would adore hearing again.

THE ACCOMPANIST, Alexander Yerchmin was of solo caliber himself and demonstrated it by reading his accompaniment in perfect balance with his singer and by developing his own style in introductions or bridge passages I'd like to hear him play a Rachmaninoff recital if the Kremlin could see its way clear to return him alone.

The Bolshoi is coming all right and so is Russ violinist Igor Besrodni, Armenian bass-baritone Pavel Lisitsian and the swirling of the concert crowds, David Oistrakh. They will all be sorely tested to meet the challenge of Mme. Doloukhanova's superb program.

TO MAKE THE weekend jaunt to Los Angeles even the more worthwhile, the Fine Arts Quartet of Chicago rang down the curtain on the fifty-fifth season of Coleman Chamber Concerts in Pasadena Playhouse Mainstage Sunday afternoon.

The visitors played Bartok's First Quartet, Haydn's D Major (Opus 76) Quartet and, after intermission, were joined by pianist Muriel Kerr for Brahms' F Minor (Opus 34) Quintet.

Second movement of the Haydn was an exquisite gem, with the lyricism of the group fusing beautifully with the demanding score of the largo.

IN THE POWERFUL opening of the Brahms, the five musicians welded a dramatic power that seemed at times, to defy the limitations of their number.

This is the Brahms that signifies the master arrived. There is a conception of depth, of vitality, of reflective inner knowledge that is transported clearly to the score. The quintet, I felt, did a musicianly job in interpreting that genius.

Bubble Barrier

Through a system installed two years ago, air is piped from the shore to the sea bed at the harbor's entrance, and then sent up to the surface as bubbles. This breaks the waves down by about 50 per cent.

Here for Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Crawford and children Robert Dennis, Kathleen Hildred and William Byrd, of Anaheim, were weekend guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford of 1149 Tamarisk Road.

Coopers' Thunderbird Home Scene of Festive Gathering

All-white flowers decorated the Harold Coopers' Thunderbird home Saturday night, when they entertained close to 100 at cocktails and dinner.

A fruit display centered the buffet, which was prepared by Santos, and guests dined by candlelight at tables spread with red and white checked tablecloths.

In the pool an enormous champagne glass, floating on a platform of styrofoam, was filled with champagne liquid and plastic bubbles, and colorful bunches of grapes surrounded its base. Water lilies were adrift in the pool.

Rod Dykes entertained with songs.

Guests included: Messrs. and Mmes. Lou Manseau, Paul Reynolds, Kent B. Hayes, Eric Stainton, S. P. Manasse, Harold O. MacLean, Joe Hale, Norman Waters, W. B. Malouf, Joe Froggatt, L. L. Oakes, Ben Gale, Maynard Laswell, Fred Karlen, D. J. Hutchens, Co Thornton, John M. Scott, Dick Edwards, Bud Mhoon.

Also: Messrs. and Mmes. Walter Cruttenden, Joe Dyer, George Holstein, Dolph Obergfel, Ed Fallgren, Dan Dunlap, Randolph Christie, Don Bleitz, Bill Seals, John Costello, H. E. Sayre, John F. Luccareni, John McClure, Howard Lapham, Kenneth Kirk, Edgar Schill, Barney Gengenbach, H. J. Bligh, M. E. Gray, J. W. Smart.

And: Mmes. Franklyn B. MacCarthy, Harrison Barnes, B. J. SanChez, Bertine Trent, Helen Bush, Eastman Markell, and Mr. Jack Williamson and his sister Margaret Drummond who is visiting here from the Isle of Wight.

Garden Club Election at Annual Picnic

Members of Palm Springs Garden Club enjoyed a picnic meeting on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harper's home in Riverside Saturday.

Each year Mr. and Mrs. Harper who are charter members of the Club, have invited members to enjoy their beautiful grounds and flowers and it is an event to which all look forward.

Officers for next year were elected at this meeting. They are: president, Miss Gladys McClure; vice president, Collis Steere; recording secretary, Mrs. Jerry Bunker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ronald Ellis; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Holland; members - at-large, the retiring president Dr. Walter Fifield and Mrs. Glenn Watson, librarian Mrs. David King.

Rummage Sale Next Weekend

The Women's Association of the Palm Springs Community Church will hold their annual Rummage Sale on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25, in the social hall of the Church, located at the corner of Cahuilla and Baristo Road. Doors will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Association president announced today.

Used clothing and household articles of every description will be gratefully accepted. The Church office will receive packages during office hours, or pick-up of donations may be secured by calling the Church secretary at FA 5-2242.

Proceeds of this sale will go to the building fund of the Association.

La Vaun Belt to Be Installed As President of B&PW Club

Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club will install new officers when it meets Tuesday, April 28, at 7:30 p.m., in the Chi Chi Blue Room.

New president, elected by a unanimous vote, is LaVaun Belt. Other officers, to be installed by E. Caroline Hawkins, 1st vice president of Southern District B&PW, are: 1st vice president, Mary McGraw; 2nd vice president, Dorothy Bourne; treasurer, Helen Starry.

Guest speaker at the installation dinner will be Marion Monette, Junior Past President of Southern District B&PW.

Chairman of the banquet committee, Jeanne Blair, will be assisted by committee members Barbara Hostetter, Frances LaRue, Betty Luce, Annette Scrivanie and Eudora Whisenand. Members and guests wishing to attend may call Jean Bourne (FA 4-2234) for reservations.

Retiring president June Travers conducted the election meeting, which was held at Impala Lodge, with the agenda including committee reports.

Pleasant Sunday Night Party at the Howard Morris Home

Cactus Road, which had been filled with cars and people, lights and festivity for the Walter Sibbert party on Friday night, did a repeat performance on Sunday night, when the Sibberts' neighbors the Howard Morrisses hosted a cocktail buffet.

Guests gathered poolside for cocktails and danced to the music of Pat Barbara and his orchestra. Jack Boyer catered the dinner which featured stuffed Cornish game hens with a plum sauce.

Among the guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Paul Reynolds, Bill Reichel, Glenn Thomas, Ed Robbins (she just back from Reno where she went to supervise the spring planting at their ranch home), George Roberson, George Wheeler, Joe Froggatt, W. Walter Sibberts Host Party at Their Home on Cactus Road

A reunion of former San Marino neighbors marked the Friday night party hosted by the Walter Sibberts at their home on Cactus Road. The Charles Lees and James Lawlesses flew down from San Marino for the party; the Alex Gaals drove down, and former San Marino-ites, the Robert Youngs came down from Sacramento.

Here as weekend guests of the Sibberts were the William Renards of St. Petersburg, Florida, who had been in Los Angeles to attend the Grocers convention.

Santos had prepared Italian food which was served buffet style, with guests seated at small tables spread with red and white checkered tablecloths and centered with candles in wine bottles.

Among their guests were the Adolph Bremers, Jack Blighs, George Barretts, John Costellos, Joe Hales, Billy Maloufs, Howard Morrisses, S. P. Manasses, Dolph Obergfels, Verne Reinhardts, Sam Salingers, Corwin Spencers, Walker Smiths, Ed Schills, Co Thorntons, Glenn Thomasses, Newton Tarbles, George Wheelers, Ralph Waycotts, Jeff Townsends.

Also: Messrs. and Mmes. Stan Forbes, Joe Hutchins, Paul Reynolds, Sy Simon, Mmes. Robin Barnes, Millie Bollman, B. J. SanChez, Jan King, Sally Morse, Ginny Simms, Louise Nicoletti, Doris Markell, and Messrs. Pierre Bouscaren, Bill Brereton and others.

Virginians Here for Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wood of Arlington, Virginia, arrived Thursday for a fortnight's visit with his sister, Mrs. Harry Hunter and family of 1176 San Lorenzo Road.

Wood is a retired executive of the Inter-State Commerce Commission of Washington, D. C., and he and his wife visited in New Orleans on their way across country by train.

Hunter is a retired Paramount director, and they lived in Australia for 14 years until shortly before coming to Palm Springs two years ago.

Jeanie Wise Married to Barstow Man

In informal marriage rites at the Community Church Friday evening, Jeanie Wise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wise of 310 East El Portal, exchanged rings and vows with Kermit Martin of Barstow. Rev. Don Bachtell officiated at the ceremony, which was witnessed by family and a few friends.

The bride wore a white Arnel sheath gown wfith small sequinned hat and a gardenia corsage. Her sister, Mrs. Robert Stroud, was matron of honor and David Curtis was best man.

A graduate of Palm Springs High School Class of '58, the bride had been in the employ of the Telephone Company. The groom is an employe of California Electric at Barstow and they will make their home there after a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas.

Here for the wedding ceremony and the reception which was held in the Wise home, were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Prather and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prather all of Beaumot.

Bride-Elect Is Honoree at Shower

Parents of children enrolled in the Community Church Play-School presented Play-School director Mabelle Ostberg with a complete set of white airplane luggage at a bridal shower Saturday at the home of Mrs. Edwin Buckheim at 560 Vista Oro. Cohostess was Mrs. Leonard Bock.

The luggage shower honored the bride-elect who will marry Mel Stafford in the early summer. The party was poolside and on the palm trees were posters and folders from the Caribbean Islands where the two will go on their honeymoon.

Two dozen pink carnations in a viking ship of silver, centered the refreshment table. White kissing doves, wedding bells and lace bows added to the bridal decor. Champagen punch was served with pink petit fours, decorated with tiny white roses. Fresh fruit on a bed of crushed ice, included pink grapefruit, oranges, melon and pineapple. There were also plates of pink and white cookies, mints, nuts and cherries.

Among the guests at the shower were Mesdames William Aikin, Thurman Arnold, James H. Blackstone, Robert Blashek, Edwin Buckheim Sr., Raymond Chapman, Carrol Davies, Rawleigh T. Dew, Ernie Dunlevie, Dean H. Gilchrist, Jack Gorham, Keith Herbert, Gordon Kirkwood, Kelvin Larson, William Mason, John Matarese, Charles McCammon, Don Miller, Edward Mullins, Leon Pacht, Zachary Pitts, Ray E. Stephens, Paul Tarr, Albert C. Wagner, Merle Wasserman, David Watt, Donald Wexler, Glenn A. Woodfin, and others.

When doubling a recipe, it is a mistake to try to double the salt or other seasonings also. They should be used sparingly and by taste.

White Shrine Installs Officers at Masonic Temple in Banning

Blanche M. Hayward was installed as Worthy High Priestess when Ramona Shrine No. 70, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, held its eighth annual installation of officers at the Masonic Temple in Banning.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW — Fagaly and Shorten

ALL WINTER LONG HE LAYS HIS PLANS TO GIVE THAT GARDEN HIS BEST
...AND I FIGURE I CAN PLANT SOME MUMS AND ROSES IN THE FRONT! IN THE BACK A VEGETABLE GARDEN! MAYBE CORN OR TOMATOES, OR...
SOUNDS GREAT, POP!
UH HUH! YES! UH HUH!
GARDEN MANUAL
PLANTS
SEEDS
COME SPRING (LIKE EVERY OTHER YEAR) HE LAYS HIS PLANS TO REST
GOLF AGAIN? WHAT ABOUT THE GARDEN? YOU SAID...
WAIT'LL NEXT YEAR, HEY POP?
OH YEAH!
I'LL GET AROUND TO IT SOMETIME SOON!

One Professor Defends Slow Reading

A MICHIGAN State University English professor criticizes the recent stress on speed in reading because hurried reading seldom leaves time to think over what's being read.

WHATEVER your reading speed, it'll pay you to read over thoughtfully the offers in the Desert Sun Classified section. And when you've some need dial a Classified Ad to FA 5-5005 so others can read about your want.

FORMULA FOR SUCCESS:

TAKE a gorgeous emerald green setting. ADJOIN to both fabulous El Dorado and Indian Wells golf courses. BLEND IN a section of conservatively $100,000 residences and sharply rising VALUES. Add—

INDIVIDUALLY DESIGNED

ULTRA-SMART custom homes with every luxury. FINISHED to a queen's taste. INCLUDE refreshingly different swimming pools, waterfalls and fountians. COMBINE all these unusual luxury features until it becomes the undisputable

BEL AIRE OF THE DESERT

INSURE, in spite of apparent extravagance, a very sensible price and excellent terms. APPOINT a strict architectural committee to maintain these very high standards. RESULT: Section No. 1 sells out in less than seven weeks after official opening. Section No. 2, opened two weeks ago, if half gone even before STREETS ARE COMPLETED.

SELECTION STILL AVAILABLE

The balance of lovely homesites in Section No. 2 may still be purchased. Whether your plans include this year or the future. NOW IS THE TIME to reserve your homesite, and avoid sharply rising prices. MODELS ON DISPLAY: Highway 111 to Indian Wells Lane (WEST border Indian Wells Golf Course).

Palm Desert

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

The Palm Desert Players held a general membership meeting Monday in the east wing of the Palm Desert Shopping Center. Plans were made for the balance of the year.

Mrs. Henry Smith of Amarillo, Texas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Munnis, is here for a week's visit with her family. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Stone and the Munns spent a few days in San Diego recently.

Mrs. Hazel Sergeant is back in her Shadow Mountain Drive home after an absence of two weeks. She will be here until the Luau which will be May 16.

The famous "Monte Carlo" night at Shadow Mountain Club will be Friday night April 24. They have definitely limited the crowd to 300, so early reservations are advisable. This affair is one of the highlights of the spring social season.

Mrs. Bob (Hazel) Waters entertained a group of friends for luncheon and bridge in honor of her sister, Mrs. Alice Hamilton, who is visiting her from Salem, Ore. Another guest, Mrs. Virginia Hampton is from Portland Ore. The other guests were Edna Value, June Goodwin, June Crux, Belle Keightley, May Sanquineth, Fran Hodgeman, Edith Jones, Viola Brooks, Donna Cockerill Mary Caplinger, Janet Pettingill, Eunice Bower, Marge Brown, Brody Snelson, Wilma Morgan, Barbara Hartley, Helen Mahannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson have returned to their home in Pittsburgh but will spend a great deal of their time on the farm in Maryland. May stopped in Albuquerque N. M., to visit her daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Robinson, of Watsonville have been guests of Christine and Walter Markley this week.

The Palm Desert Woman's Club held its April election after luncheon and business meeting. Red Cross Asks Full Quota in All Branches

William Engel, Riverside County Chapter, American Red Cross fund chairman, announced today extension of Red Cross campaigns for members and funds in the Chapter's County branches "until every citizen has been given the opportunity to contribute."

This action was announced after reports from county communities said volunteers are working toward the $65,125.00 goal. "This goal is the minimum amount needed by the organization," Engel said, "to enable it to cary on its disaster, safety, welfare, nursing and other services to the people."

Communities in which Red Cross campaigns are in progress are Blythe, Banning, Beaumont, San Jacinto, Hemet, Perris, Elsinore, Indio, Idyllwild. In the Palm Springs Branch of the Chapter a United Fund campaign is being conducted and in the Corona Branch, the United Fund drive is completed.

"It is extremely important," Engel said, "that each community reaches its goal. I urge our volunteers to continue their efforts vigourously and without letup. This campaign can be successful if everyone will do his or her part. The need and demand by the American people for Red Cross services is greater than ever and it is the responsibility of everyone of us to see that the organization is in a position to fulfill its responsibilities."

Dear Abby... ...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife started going out "with the girls." I became suspicious when she stayed out so late and I followed her. She was meeting her boss in a bar. I caused a big scene and the next day I went to the president of the company they worked for and he fired them both. Since then five people have phoned me from the office expressing their sympathy over what happened and all said the affair had been going on for over three years (ever since she started working there). There are children involved on both sides. I forgave my wife for the children's sake but now she wants to get another job to help pay off some bills. Should I let her? I don't think she can be trusted. WRONGED

DEAR WRONGED: Keep her home for the time being. Nobody changes over night.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and have more problems than my mother. A boy at school took a liking to me and followed me around so much I started calling him my shadow. He begged me to go to an afternoon show with him but I refused. He called me nine times and my mother said, "For goodness sakes, go with him and get rid of him! He liked me all the more. He asked me to take his I.D. bracelet and to tell you the truth I wanted to but my mother would have brained me. He gave me a box of Easter candy and my mother served it to her bridge club and I didn't even get one piece. If I don't accept his I. D. bracelet it will ruin my friendship with his sister who is my age. What should I do? TROUBLES

DEAR TROUBLES: You say if you ACCEPT his I.D. bracelet your mother will "brain" you, and if you DON'T, you'll lose his sister's friendship. I doubt if either your mother or his sister would resort to such drastic measures, but you'd better refuse the bracelet. A girl can live without a girlfriend, but she definitely needs her brains.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman who is considered very attractive to men. My problem is this: Every man I've gone out with thinks that just because I've been married I have no morals. The first thing they suggest is their apartment or a motel or something like that. I love to dance. I enjoy good clean fun and I'd like to meet a man with the same ideas. Now I ask you, was I born forty years too soon or am I just old-fashioned? LONELY

DEAR LONELY: There is nothing "old-fashioned" about keeping one's self-respect. You are attracting the wrong kind of men. Change bait.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my little girl started scratching her head something fierce. I looked real good at her hair and it was loaded with lice. I killed all I could find. I scrubbed her head with a strong laundry bleach and combed her hair with a fine comb, but she still scratches. How can I kill all the lice eggs without damaging the rest of her hair? I am crazy with fear and fretting. Can you help me?

FEARFUL

DEAR FEARFUL: Don't experiment on your child's head. Call your doctor and ask him for his recommendation.

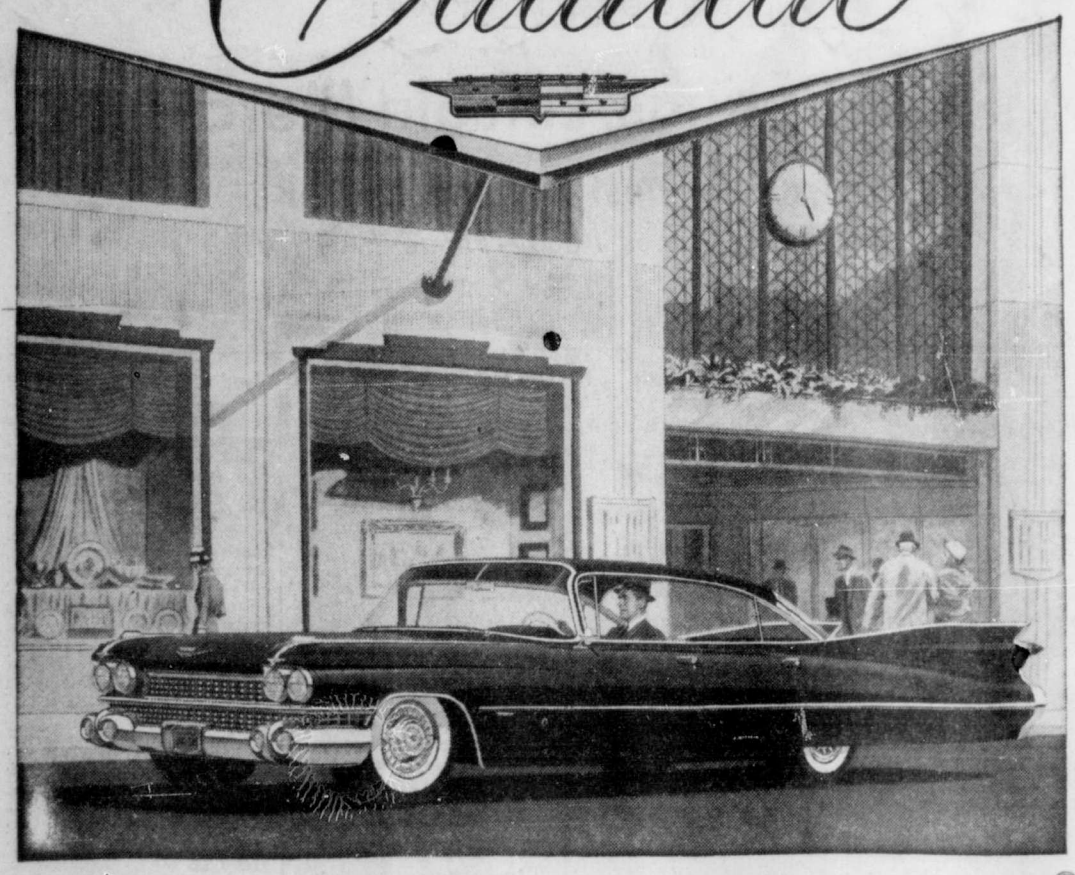
Cadillac



World's Best Synonym for "Quality"!

In every land where automobiles are seen and appreciated, the Cadillac name has become a part of the language.

In fact, it would be safe to say that "Cadillac" is now an international synonym for "quality".

What a telling tribute this is to the motor car that bears this proud name—and that has given the Cadillac ideal such widespread recognition.

And certainly, that ideal of quality has never been more clearly evident—or more beautifully delineated—than it is in the current "car of cars".

First of all, it can be seen—in the majesty of its lines and contours . . . in the regal grace of its silhouette . . . and in the jewel-like elegance of its finish and trim.

Or it can be felt—in the brilliant response of its great new engine . . . in the incredible smoothness of its ride . . . and in the ease with which it drives and handles.

It can even be sensed—in the superb taste of its interior appointments . . . and in the matchless character of its beautiful fabrics and leathers.

And yes, it can be heard—in the marvelous quiet of its operation . . . and its truly wonderful silence on even the roughest of byways.

In brief, the Cadillac name has never before represented excellence in such great measure—as a personal appraisal will amply demonstrate.

We suggest you visit your authorized Cadillac dealer soon—and view your favorite highway through the windshield of a 1959 Cadillac.

It will give you a new understanding of how truly fine a motor car can be.
